A TROUBLED WORLD
TWO INSTRUCTIVE MAPS
STRIKING AGAINST EDISON
WALL STREETS' PROBLEM

—By Arthur Brisbane—

(Copyright 1930 By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

TROUBLED ALL OVER THE world, in Spain, students burn a picture of the king, and Berenguer, prime minister, closes the University of Barcelona.

Before burning the picture, the students cut out the head mounted it on a pole and paraded the streets with it.

That is a mild, but unpleasantly close imitation of French revolutionists. They cut off the head of a public official that advised peasants to eat grass if they had no bread. The mob stuffed the dead mouth with grass, put the head on the end of a pole, and paraded with it.

TWO MAPS, RECENTLY PUBLISHED, will be studied by future historians. One shows locations of all speakies in the national capital. Immense black specks, each indicating a bootleg resort, make the map look like the face of a child with chicken pox.

The other map shows South America, its revolutionary sections heavily shaded. A few small white spots show smaller states, Chile, Colombia, Venezuela, Ecuador, Paraguay and Uruguay still peaceful.

This country may congratulate itself on the fact that it hasn't lost its nerve after a destructive stock gambling fever, it would have little worry.

It has no revolutionary tendencies that cannot be taken care of by the police, and more important, it has no "dole," such as in England, destroying desire to work in millions of men, putting idleness on a national subsidy basis.

A STRIKE IN THE EDISON factory at Orange, N. J., was necessary, perhaps, if it is a fact that wages were reduced. But any workman knowing what Edison has done for knowledge must find it hard to call a strike against him.

Thanks to Edison millions are at work all over the world, at good wages, and millions live in comfort unknown before Edison's work began.

However, he is 83 years old, a philosopher and knows that the

COOPER STRIKES BACK AT WHITE

Charges Of Democrats In Campaign Branded As Being Ridiculous

TOLEDO, Oct. 15.—Gov. Myers Y. Cooper emphasized his bid for re-election on the record of his administration and struck back at the charges of extravagance by George White of Marietta, the Democratic candidate, in carrying his campaign into Lucas county last night.

Cooper charged White with failing to understand the difference between legislative and administrative functions. He said that the charges were ridiculous, but even he should know the legislature makes the appropriations, the governor signs them.

"There has been no extravagance and he knows it."

Cooper made a half a dozen addresses during the day and evening, each time reviewing his "record of accomplishments made and a constructive program well under way."

Republicans Endorse Litty For County Treasurer

County Committee In Action After Edwards Withdraws From Race

Name Must Be Written On Ballot To Elect Salem Resident

CLOSE CONTEST IN PRIMARY VICTORY

Edward's Name Still To Appear On Ballot On November 4

John C. Litty, Salem real estate dealer, was endorsed as the Republican candidate for the office of treasurer of Columbiana county at a meeting of the executive and advisory committees of the Republican county central committee at Lisbon Tuesday night.

Litty was named to succeed A. Earl Edwards of East Liverpool, whose resignation as the Republican nominee was accepted by the committee. Edwards defeated Litty in a close race for the nomination in the August primaries.

The Salem man's name will not appear on the Republican ballots to be presented voters at the election on Nov. 4. Ballots have already been printed and electors wishing to cast votes in his favor will be compelled to write his name in on the ticket.

Edwards' letter announcing his resignation was submitted to the committee by Councilman Ray Adams of East Liverpool.

Gives His Reasons

His action, Edwards said in the letter, was prompted by "certain publications in reference to alleged irregularity" in the conduct of his office as clerk of the East Liverpool municipal clerk.

Edwards' name will appear on ballots in the election despite his withdrawal from the race. He won the nomination for the treasurer-ship in a race involving four candidates.

Litty agreed to permit his name to be written in on ballots at the meeting in Lisbon. The vacancy created on the ticket by Edwards' resignation cannot be filled by appointment, according to Ohio statutes, and ballots which have already been printed must be submitted to voters.

Dunlevy was arrested by Patrolmen Wilbur Hiddleston and William Reardon after he is alleged to have driven his automobile into a head-on collision with another machine parked on Wilson street last night.

He entered a plea of not guilty when arraigned before Mayor J. M. Davidson and was lodged in city jail when unable to furnish $250 bond.

FEDERALS CLAIM ARMY ADVANCES ON WIDE FRONT

Victories Are Reported In Two Engagements By Government

REBEL LEADERS REMAIN SILENT

Officials Believe Support Of Cause On Wane And Opposition Falling

BULLETIN
(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The full support of the state department behind the Brazilian government in the present revolution was officially announced today by Secretary Stimson.

(By Associated Press)
MONTVIDEO, URUGUAY, Oct. 15.—Federal sources today claimed steady advance of their armies into revolutionary territory, with victories over insurgent forces reported on three fronts.

In two sections of the state of Minas Geraes, government forces had the rebel troops in retreat, while two columns operating on the 200-mile Sao Paulo Parana front forced fighting back into Parana, away from the Sao Paulo border.

Insurgent leaders were silent regarding the federal claims, making only such general statements as that the advance of the "Gauchos," or Rio Grande Do Sul cowboys, continued. Rebel leaders continued to claim a victory at Caripolis, in the area disputed.

Claim Parana Victory
A federal force yesterday fought for possession of the bridgehead at Senegues, in Parana, and won. Other federal forces, on the left of the long rebel front, claimed to have occupied Santo Antonio Da Plata, and other localities in northern Parana.

The federal advance into interior Minas Geraes, about which insurgent quarters always have been comparatively silent, continues with forces far inland toward Bello Horizonte, capital of the state.

The federal advance is now said to be with little opposition. Officials believe that revolutionary support will wane and the state return to the national federation with but little more fighting.

RIO GRANDE DO SUL, BRAZIL, Oct. 15.—Revolutionary headquarters today claimed a victory in a sharp battle with Sao Paulo federal forces on the western Sao Paulo border.

CITY HOSPITAL GETS APPROVAL

Salem Institution Listed By American College Of Surgeons

Salem City hospital again has been placed on the annual list of approved hospitals selected by the American College of Surgeons.

The approved list was announced at the thirteenth annual hospital standardization conference of the American College of Surgeons, in Philadelphia this week. Formal announcement of selection of Salem's hospital has been received by Dr. J. M. McGeorge, chief of staff.

The work of making hospitals safe for the public has been carried on for 13 years by the College of Surgeons through continuous inspection and survey of all hospitals of 25 beds or more in the United States and Canada.

To obtain approval, hospitals must comply with requirements relating to virtually every phase of hospital work.

The officers are: President, W. H. Matthews; vice president, B. H. Calkins; recording secretary, Mrs. L. B. Harris; corresponding secretary and librarian, Miss Ethel Stouffer; treasurer, Orin Naragon; pianist, Mrs. Ruth Berry; assistant, Miss Betty Moss.

J. William Filson, who is widely known as musical circles here, is director, with Lester Kille, his assistant.

This season the members are studying Handel's "Messiah." There were 50 in attendance at the first meeting.

Members will be enrolled all this month. The meetings are held each Monday evening at 7:30 at the Christian church.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 15.—The Ohio conference on water purification yesterday elected F. E. Sheehan, Portsmouth, chairman. William A. Van Arnum was named vice chairman. About 100 chemists and superintendents of Ohio municipal water plants were here for the two day session.

The record of the prosecutor's office today discloses that an average of 78 days has elapsed from the time an offense was committed until a verdict was pronounced by the court. The record also shows an average time of 24 days elapsed from the time an indictment was returned until the court pronounced sentence.

KIDNAPERS FREE CAPTIVE; MIRED MACHINE CAUSE

Promise Of Secrecy Gets Release For Woman; Posses Out

(By Associated Press)
GREENFIELD, MO., Oct. 15.—Authorities investigating the kidnapping of Mrs. Alma Wilson McKinley, 25-year-old heiress, released late yesterday after being held captive for nearly a day, today expressed the opinion her abductor originally planned to capture and hold for ransom her millionaire father, Benton Wilson.

The opinion that Wilson was first intended as the victim was based on a note left at the Wilson home by the abductor, in which $50,000 was demanded for the release of Mrs. McKinley, an expectant mother. Investigators said the abductor's plane to collect ransom for the release of Mrs. McKinley were foiled when the Wilson motor car, in which she was forced to drive away, became mired in the mud near Jarro Springs, Mo.

The note, revealed last night by Wilson after his daughter had returned home, was typewritten.

After the car had become mired in the mud, the abductor and Mrs. McKinley walked along a road for several hours, during which time he instructed her to release a note saying she would be released upon payment of $30,000. Apparently fearful of capture, the abductor finally agreed to tear up the note if she would agree not to reveal where she was released.

She kept her word and today had supplied little information that would aid officials in their search.

After being released, Mrs. McKinley walked to a farm house near Stockton, about 20 miles from Greenfield, and telephoned home. Her husband, Harold, and her father went after her.

Although unharmed, Mrs. McKinley was near exhaustion when the note left at the Wilson home warned relatives Mrs. McKinley would be "bumped off" if its contents were revealed to officials or newspapers.

Justice Speedy In County Under Plan Of Prosecutor

Special Sessions Tend To Clear Dockets In Short Time

LISBON, Oct. 15.—The plan originated by Prosecuting Attorney John E. Baucknecht in calling special grand juries before the regular terms of court has resulted in the quick disposal of criminal cases and a marked saving to the county in the keep of prisoners.

The record of the prosecutor's office today discloses that an average of 78 days has elapsed from the time an offense was committed until a verdict was pronounced by the court. The record also shows an average time of 24 days elapsed from the time an indictment was returned until the court pronounced sentence.

VISITING BANDS EXPECTED HERE AT CELEBRATION

Extensive Plans Laid By American Legion Men For Salem Event

INVITATIONS SENT COUNTY VILLAGES

Expect Many Mimmers In Line Of March; Aid From Merchants

Drum corps and bands from at least six Ohio cities are expected to participate in the annual Halloween celebration planned in Salem by Charles H. Carey post No. 56, American Legion, on the night of Friday, October 31.

This year's celebration is expected to develop into the most pretentious fall festivals ever held in this city. Outstanding attractions are being planned for the affair together with the appearance of a number of Legion drum corps and bands.

The Salem post plans to develop the celebration into a county gathering and is extending invitations to residents of Leetonia, Lisbon and East Palestine to attend the affair. Merchants of this city are cooperating with members of the Legion committee in efforts to make the event a success.

More than 1,000 costumed mimmers will march in the parade which will be one of the evening's highlights. Prize lists are now being arranged by the post in conjunction with merchants.

The drum corps and bands expected here will come from North Canton, Carrollton, Kent and other cities in Ohio who sent bands to the national Legion convention at Boston.

FREIGHT AGENT SALEM SPEAKER

Rotarians Hear Railroad Man Stress Value Of Transportation

Railroads have played an important part in the development of this country and will continue to do so, for this means of transportation never will be eliminated.

That is the message brought to the Rotary club Tuesday afternoon by O. L. Frederick of Canton, division freight agent of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Pointing out that there are 412,000 miles of railroad lines in the United States, Frederick declared that this country has the best transportation lines in the world, with an average freight cost of one-third less than other countries. The railroad business is the second largest in the country, agriculture ranking as first.

The speaker referred to the importance of Salem as a shipping point, the Pennsylvania railroad moving between 500 and 600 cars a week out of Salem under normal conditions. Six cents out of every dollar collected by the railroad goes to pay taxes, he said.

In referring to the growth of truck and bus business, Frederick expressed the opinion that motor transportation should be subject to state and federal regulatory bodies, just as are railroads.

The speaker was introduced by Charles Wolfe, Pennsylvania agent at Salem.

Officer Named By Legion Auxiliary

Mrs. Frank Filson was chosen president of the American Legion auxiliary at a meeting Tuesday evening when officers for the ensuing year were selected. Her associate officers are: First vice president, Mrs. Ray Parce; second vice president, Mrs. Clifford Stoudt; secretary, Mrs. Don Stirling; treasurer, Mrs. John Litty.

Mrs. J. Edward Johns of Massillon, state vice president, was guest of the auxiliary and gave a talk of interest to the members.

Mrs. Johns pointed out that there is an increasing demand on the auxiliaries for hospital work, etc., and that every member of the organization should feel her responsibility for this work.

The fall conference will be held at Massillon on Oct. 28. Members planning to attend are to call Mrs. Ralph Sturgeon by Oct. 25.

The next meeting will be held on Monday afternoon, Oct. 27, at the home of Mrs. Alice Bye, at Damascus. Those planning to attend are to be at the hall by 1:30. A covered dish supper preceded this session.

STATE FORESTER LISBON SPEAKER

Advantages Of Reforestation In Ohio Form Topic For Address At County Seat Tuesday

Advantages of reforestation and necessities of its practice in Ohio were explained by Edmund Secrest, state forester, at a gathering of more than 100 Columbiana county residents in Lisbon Tuesday night.

Secrest discussed the methods of reforestation as used in Germany, France and other European countries and showed their advantages. He explained that in Ohio there have been developed 55,000 acres of state forests and 15 state parks but that no county forests have as yet been developed.

Decrease in forest fires and other beneficial results were explained due to Ohio's reforestation work. Slides were shown of two state nurseries maintained for the sowing of seedlings which are sold at less than cost of growing.

Much interest was shown in the reforestation project. W. L. Deming of Salem is father of the plan. Atty. C. G. McCorkhill, also of this city, was appointed chairman of a committee to make further plans concerning the subject and will announce members of the committee later this week.

Admires Morrow

BEVERLY HILLS, CAL., Oct. 15.—No wonder Dwight Morrow stands today so much higher in the public estimation than all our old line politicians. You might be against his opinions, but you admire his direct way of coming out on everything he talks on. Any other man that had his chance for the presidential nomination would wait and hedge around and not come out either way, and in that way embarrass the present president.

But not Morrow. He just said yesterday that he was for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, but not for repeal of Mr. Hoover.

SCHOOL BOND ISSUE

Proposed bond issue for $385,000 for the erection of a modern high school building in Salem was not received with popular acclaim when first presented by the board of education for approval of voters at the November election. The board's subsequent action in selecting the highest bidder as architect has served to hasten the death of an issue that, under most favorable circumstances, had little chance to survive.

When the school board opened bids from architects early in September, it received the following estimates for constructing and equipping a building to house 700 students:

R. F. Medicus, Youngstown, $340,000; F. S. Barckhoff, Salem, $352,000; Canfield & Cook, Youngstown, $380,000; C. F. Owsley, Youngstown, $437,000; Clarence A. Kissinger, Youngstown, $462,000.

These estimates covered the board's specifications for a large auditorium, natatorium, cafeteria, and other modern features of educational institutions. Apparently keeping its eye on the lower bids, the board then determined upon a bond issue of $385,000, to cover cost of construction, purchase price of property and other requirements.

The next move was to eliminate from consideration two of the highest bidders, at the same time retaining the next highest. The bids were then thrown down to permit Miller and Son of Girard to take advantage of other architects' figures and submit a bid.

Not satisfied with this unethical procedure, the board of education immediately eliminated from all consideration the lowest bidder—R. F. Medicus—and Monday night went into final session on this issue with only three bids before them—those of F. S. Barckhoff, C. F. Owsley and Miller and Son.

In the meantime Mr. Owsley was permitted to adjust his estimate, but the shaving process failed to bring his figure below the $400,000 mark, which was still $60,000 higher than the lowest bid originally received, and discarded without a great deal of consideration. Three of the five board members voted to accept this high bid and if the voters of Salem and Perry township are foolish enough to approve of this action, Mr. Owsley will collect a handsome premium for the privilege of foisting an expensive building upon the taxpayers.

Here is the picture in brief: The voters are asked to approve a bond issue for an amount not sufficient to cover the architect's contract with the board of education. How can the board justify such action? And how can it satisfy the voters that it acted wisely in turning down the lowest bidders in order to favor the highest?

The News always has contended that progress of the community is dependant largely upon the progress of its school system. It always has encouraged improvements to the city's school properties to the end that a higher standard of education might be provided for its children. Whenever a school bond issue was placed before the voters, it urged support of that issue.

Today it finds itself in the position of having no other alternative than that of opposing this proposed bond issue of $385,000. A new building is needed, but not so urgently that economies should be scattered to the four winds and that the issue should be forced upon the voters in a year of unsatisfactory business and industrial conditions. It is possible to get along with facilities at hand—the superintendent of schools has admitted that—and it would have seemed to be logical reasoning to have deferred this bond issue until another year.

With such lack of judgment as

that shown in the selection of an architect's bid, it is all the more important that the bond issue be defeated. The board then would have ample opportunity to proceed along more economical lines. When that is done The News has faith in the voters' judgment to approve a bond issue within reason.

What Others Say

PRISON REFORM

A public service of great value to Ohio has been performed by the welfare advisory commission appointed by Gov. Cooper after the Columbus prison fire. The six men named to the commission for five months have been studying prison conditions in this and other states. To this task they have devoted their time and money, without thought of remuneration from the state. For its usefulness alone their effort deserves the gratitude of every citizen.

They have supplied, however, a more cogent reason for applause. In a preliminary report submitted to the governor the whole prison system of Ohio is taken apart for examination, and put together again, in plan, with all the more glaring of the old bases wiped out. This has been done in a courageous, straightforward manner, with no minced words, no effort to gloss over conditions which the whole state knows to be insufferable, or to shift or deny responsibility. The responsibility that has long been struggled off by the legislature still lies in the hands of that body.

It is hardly necessary to repeat the commission's report of what it found at Ohio prisons. Overcrowding, idleness, lack of distinction between hardened criminals, feeble-minded and those who with intelligent treatment, could be rescued for social usefulness; no basic theory of reform, probation, parole, and no opportunities to put such a theory into action even if it existed; a generally low level of personnel—these are perhaps among the most important indictments made in the report.

The keystone of the commission's recommendations for reform is the classification of prisoners and their segregation and treatment according to class. In this way, and only in this way, can the incorrigibly anti-social, the mentally defective and the prisoners for whom there is hope of reform be kept from association in the same pit. Without such a method, and the facilities necessary to employ it, the term prison reform is a joke.

Since the first of July a newly created scientific branch of the welfare department has been working toward classification of prisoners. The physical changes in the prison system advocated by the advisory commission look to an early day when classification can be put into effect. These changes, it might be said, call for expansion and reorganization of prisons, reformatories and schools already in use. Instead of a vast program of prison building, it suggests the addition of two new units, housing 1,200 prisoners each and a moderate expansion of the Grafton state farm. The insistence of the commission that new prison units should not exceed a capacity of 1,200 is in line with the need for segregated treatment and with modern thought on prison reform. When the commission points out that, under present conditions, Ohio's prison population will double in the next ten years its recommendation for a thorough revamping of methods of probation and parole demands serious consideration.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

WEAR BUNN'S GOOD SHOES

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

WATCH YOUR FOOT

We are living in the age of machinery, and in every home mechanical devices are in common use. Every hamlet can supply extra parts to replace damaged or broken ones for your machine.

Unless you are in an accident that takes you to a police station, or the hospital, an automobile collision does not amount to much. The repair shop will restore everything to working order.

Your feet are the main parts in the machinery for the locomotion of your precious body. They are essential to your happiness and welfare. There may be artificial substitutes, but in the real sense there are no spare parts for this mechanism of locomotion. Except when they hurt and ruin the pleasure of living, how often do you think about your feet? You spend a hundred dollars a year to keep your finger nails manicured and your hands looking well, but what do you do for your feet?

Many a person has made a wreck of himself by permitting sore feet to spoil his health and happiness. Nerves are put on edge and health undermined by steady pain, no matter where it is located. Take care of your feet.

Parents should see to it that their children are properly supervised when they begin to walk. It is essential that proper foot gear may be provided from earliest life. It is a good thing for grown children, as well as for the adults to have their feet examined at least once each year.

Their examinations should be made by orthopedists, podiatrists or trained chiropodists. They are as important as examination to safeguard the sight, the hearing and the organs of the body. This is the teaching of all those who believe that prevention is better than cure.

Don't Be a "Foot Cripple"

Surveys made by the staff of the Foot Clinics of New York and given publicity through the United States Public Health Service, show that 60 per cent of adolescent girls are more or less foot defective. It should be our aim to prevent troubles of this kind, and to correct the malwhen they do exist. Then there will be fewer foot cripples. As a result, our citizens will carry themselves better. They will have normal posture, thus helping the race practically as well as to better its appearance.

I marvel more and more that people buy whatever is offered in the way of shoes. They select their turniture, table linen, and evening garments with the greatest of care. But when it comes to shoes they are sadly indifferent.

If you prize your comfort and efficiency you will not neglect your feet. You will take care of them and clothe them in the best fitting of shoes. Good shoes, properly adjusted, are infinitely more important than the kinds of shirts, skirts, vests or coats. Unless your feet are properly shod your usefulness is materially lessened.

It was interesting to watch a six-foot bouncer handle a disturbing drunk in a restaurant last night. The disturber roamed from table to table, wearing a hat check boy's tambourine cap. He chuckled strange ladies under the chin and heckled floor performers. The bouncer stood for a volley of guttery epithets while patiently jockeying the drunk to an exit. Then after a swift smack he drop-kicked him across the sidewalk. "There goes Yale for three yards!" cried a passing taxi driver. (Copyright, 1930, McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

EMPLOYMENT ON UPTURN IN OHIO

Slackening Of Last 14 Months Has Slowed Down, Report

COLUMBUS, Oct. 15.—The rate of decline in Ohio industrial employment, which has been in progress for the past 14 months, is slackening, it was reported today by the bureau of business research at Ohio State university here.

The decline continued last month, the report states, "but at a slightly decreased rate as compared with the three preceding months." The September decline was 1 percent from August, in contrast with a five year average gain of 1 per cent for the month.

Non-manufacturing industrial employment, however, increased 4 per cent in Ohio in September over August, as against a five year average gain of only 1 per cent, the report continues.

Manufacturing and construction employment continued to fall off in September. The former was due to declines in the metal products, paper and printing, and rubber products industries.

Three were employment increases in September from August in the textiles, vehicles, chemicals and food products groups. These gains ranged from 1 to 14 per cent. The lumber products, machinery, and stone, clay and glass products groups showed no change from August.

The bureau's report was compiled on the basis of returns from 907 Ohio concerns. Of these, 401 reported employment increases in September, 435 decreases, and 71 no change in employment from August.

The volume of non-manufacturing industrial employment in Ohio for the first nine months of 1930 was 7 per cent behind the corresponding period a year ago. Similarly, the volume of construction employment was 12 per cent less for the first nine months of 1930 as compared with the same period a year ago, and manufacturing employment 18 per cent less.

sentenced by Judge W. F. Lones.

During this same period the prosecutor's office had 20 trials in probate court, obtaining 13 convictions and seven acquittals recorded. In addition there were 283 pleas of guilty entered in the probate court in which the prosecutor's office was concerned, and sentences pronounced, or a total of 295 defendants taken before the probate court by the prosecuting attorney's office. In all, 459 defendants were sentenced in the two courts during the last 21 months.

During this period there were eight civil trials in common pleas court in which the prosecutor's office represented different political sub-divisions of Columbiana county as required by law.

Six of these cases were tried to a jury and two by the court, some in common pleas and others in probate. Four had to do, in the main, with the appropriation of land for various purposes.

Three cases were completed in the court of appeals, and the state was successful in two of these issues. Two other cases were completed in the Ohio supreme court, and the state was successful in both of these issues.

The office has also handled 43 tax foreclosure cases, the record having been cleared in each case.

In addition to this activity, the prosecutor's office has also advised county commissioners and other county officials, county and township boards of education and township trustees in numerous other matters of law.

NEW YORK, R. I.—Submarine V-5 of Uncle Sam's navy has a hole as evidence of a booming torpedo. In practice V-5 shot a torpedo. What did the pesky thing do after starting for the point it was aimed at but turn around and make for V-5. It had a dummy head, so there was no explosion.

Royal Couple May Wed; Children To Be Reared In Faith Of Mother

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 15.—Pope Pius XI today granted a dispensation permitting the marriage of King Boris III. of Bulgaria, and Princess Giovanna of Italy on the written promise from Boris that any children born of the marriage without exception, will be baptized and educated as Roman Catholics. Boris is a member of the Greek orthodox church. The Bulgarian state religion, and the constitution of his country says that its king must be of that faith. The Princess Giovanna is known as a staunch and fervent Roman Catholic.

The wedding will take place in Assisi cathedral Oct. 25, in the lower chapel at the altar of the Madonna of Good Council, near the tomb of the Infanta of Savoy, daughter of King Carlo Emmanuel I.

MR. PABST ONE OF THE ABLE brewers that formerly "made Milwaukee famous," has just spent a million dollars equipping one of his plants to make real beer, in anticipation of a change in the prohibition law. This may be premature. Any prohibition comprise will probably ignore the law, letting the public drink as much as it pleases of the whisky and badly made beer.

Beer properly made would be better and would add hundreds of millions a year to government revenues, whereas "bootleg" gives billions a year to bootleggers.

It is said to be "thwarted just as you are ready to kill a deer. But hunters may find comfort in the fact that there will be more deer to kill, next year.

GOVERNOR LARSON, of New Jersey, predicts steadily increasing prosperity for his state, now celebrating "prosperity week." The governor relies on "the advantageous position of New Jersey," which could not be greatly improved.

Of late years, and especially, under Governor Larson's management, New Jersey has deserved prosperity, by energy displayed in the building of good roads. Not even California has done better than New Jersey in that direction, if late New Jersey state is far behind.

TROOPS CALLED TO AID SHERIFF

Military Rule Prevails In Missouri Town; Order Negroes To Leave

STE. GENEVIEVE, MO., Oct. 15.—Ste. Genevieve was under military rule today for the second time this week after troops had been recalled when new threats of mob violence became evident, resulting from the failure of a Negro mail carrier and his two brothers to heed a warning to leave town.

Practically all other Negroes left here after the slaying early Sunday of one white man and the fatal wounding of another by three Negroes, two men and a woman, in a robbery.

The troops, who had left for their homes only yesterday after danger of trouble appeared over, arrived at 1:45 a. m. today. They surrounded the courthouse and mounted machine guns at vantage points. Sheriff Zeigler requested the troops after the arrest of nine men, part of a group of white men who visited the home of Louis Ribeau, Negro mail carrier, and ordered Ribeau to get out of town or suffer the consequences.

Renewed feeling against the Negroes flared up last night after the death of Paul Ritter, 38, second victim of the attack by the three Negroes Sunday. Harry Panchot, service car driver, who had been engaged by the Negroes, was instantly killed.

The Negro assailants of Panchot and Ritter were being held in jail at St. Louis, as a precautionary measure.

LOS ANGELES—Mrs. Ronald H. Barlow, of Philadelphia crossed the country to compete for the national woman's golf title and not even a fractured toe could stop her. She had to use a cane in addition to her clubs to get around the course and did a 97, failing to qualify by five strokes.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 15.—Licenses of the National Guaranty Fire Insurance Co. and the Independent Bonding & Casualty Insurance Co., Newark, N. J., have been granted.

McCulloch Tolls of Benefits in Address; Strikes At Views Of Democratic Choice

ASHTABULA, Oct. 15.—Confidence that the recent tariff act will help America was expressed in a campaign address here last night by Senator Roscoe C. McCulloch, Republican candidate to succeed himself.

McCulloch defended his vote in favor of the new tariff "because I believe it will help employment and restore prosperity. We always have prospered under protection and have had hard times under free trade."

McCulloch attacked Robert J. Bulkley, of Cleveland, his Democratic foe, as an opponent of restricted immigration and a "free trader."

Midwestern Bandit Nears End Of Career; Beaten To Draw, Shot By Officers On Train

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Oct. 15.—"Little Jake" Fleagle, midwestern outlaw who swore he never would be taken alive, neared the end of his murderous bandit career today in a Springfield hospital.

Shot as he tried to beat officers to the draw, Fleagle lay at the point of death from an abdominal wound, conscious but refusing to talk to the "law" he had defied since the Lavar, Colo. bank robbery more than two years ago in which he is charged as the killer of four men.

Fleagle's only request, as physicians told him death was near was for his mother. He asked the guards to tell her "to come to see me before I die."

Fleagle was lured through newspaper advertisements into the trap that had been set for him on the train.

Tariff Lauded By

Hyde In Address

CHILLICOTHE, Oct. 15.—The new tariff was defended as a benefit to the farmer here last night by Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde.

The secretary asserted that farmers can be stabilized as a producing class and enjoy the same standards of living as industry only through the protective tariff and Republican policies.

Another major move on the part of the Hoover administration to aid agriculture was the launching of efforts to organize the farmers, Hyde declared.

TO AVERT DEATH

Chicago Gangster Rallies Today After Doctors Post Bulletin Hinting Slight Hopes

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Jack "Legs" Diamond battled to stave off death today while police strove to pick up the four day old trail of the gunman who shot him.

The gangster, who was shot five times in his hotel room Sunday, rallied somewhat early today after surgeons had issued a bulletin saying his condition had been complicated by a pulmonary collapse. At the time the bulletin was issued little hope was held for his recovery.

Four persons were held as material witnesses today including John M. Ginsburg, manager of the Monticella hotel. The others were Miss Marion Strausnick, show girl companion of Diamond in the hotel; Joseph Goldie, assistant manager; Thomas Marshall, clerk, and John Hughes, bell boy.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 15.—Missionaries at Nanchang, Kiangsi province, were evacuating to safer districts today in the face of invasion threats from a force of 72,000 Communists encamped a short distance from the city.

Although the small garrison retreated steadily at the approach of the Communists, the Nanking government was reported planning offensive measures against the invaders.

Three Cold Facts

Of vital interest to every citizen

1. The University of North Carolina recently made an investigation of retail food prices in Durham, N. C., a typical American city. It found that chain store grocery prices of advertised goods were 13.79 cents in the dollar lower than prices in other stores.

2. The University of Kentucky announced a few days later that it had made a retail price study of all sorts of food in Lexington, Ky., another typical city. It found food prices in chain store groceries were 14.03 cents in the dollar lower than prices in other stores.

3. The average American family spends for food between $600 and $800 a year, according to estimates of the best known authorities. This means that the average family buying its food at chain stores saves from $84 to $112 a year.

Customers of A&P knew these facts before these impartial investigations were made. It is in the public interest that everyone should know them.

FLASK TOTERS GET WARNINGS

Ohio State-Michigan Tilt
To Be Abrid If Dry
Forces Function

COLUMBUS, Oct. 15.—A "dry" statement was made today by Deputy State Prohibition Commissioner W. V. Aldrich.

Aldrich made the declaration that "if any men and Columbus police can make it so" the huge crowd that will attend the Michigan-Ohio State football game here Saturday will conform to the prohibition laws.

Between 20 and 25 state prohibition agents will be called into Columbus from their districts over the week end to aid local police in the drive against bootleggers and flask toters, Aldrich said.

"Not only will the stadium be watched by police and dry agents to arrest those violating the liquor laws, but hotels and recreation centers will be watched following the game. This Aldrich said, he believes will serve to put a damper on after-the-game celebrations. Authorities here have pronounced themselves more than willing to cooperate with me in this offensive. It will go hard on all those found with pocket flasks in or out of the stadium, for my men have been instructed to arrest and lock up every violator," he said.

Police Chief French will be in charge of the dry army Saturday.

MOVIES

The Royal theater, closed for the past year, will reopen Thursday, equipped with talking apparatus and will show an all-talking western production, "The Lone Rider," which stars Buck Jones. "The Dawn Patrol" has its final showing at the Grand Thursday while the State starts "Son O' My Heart" which stars John McCormack, world famous tenor.

"The Laughing Lady" will be the Grand's attraction Friday and Saturday.

"DAWN PATROL" AT THE GRAND

Richard Barthelmess makes his first appearance in an air story in "The Dawn Patrol." John Monk Saunders wrote the original story which was adapted and dialogued by Seton Miller and an Fotherich.

It is a highly dramatic mirror of those early years of the World War "schoolboy" flyers in the British air service who were compelled to face highly organized German aces, when their own mediocre equipment was forced to fight against the more modern enemy planes.

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., plays an important supporting role. While other parts are in the hands of Neil Hamilton, Gardner James, Clyde Cook, James Finlayson, Frank McHugh, William Janney, Edmund Brech and others.

"IN GAY MADRID" At The State

Dorothy Jordan, a newcomer to motion pictures, is Ramon Novarro's leading lady for the second consecutive time in "In Gay Madrid," his new all-talking and singing picture.

Recruited to films from the New York stage, Miss Jordan made an instant hit and was signed upon a contract by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer who first cast her opposite Novarro in "Devil May Care," in which he made his talking debut.

126,000 WORKERS IN BERLIN QUIT

Members Of Trade Union
Lay Down Tools After Reduction Order

BERLIN, Oct. 15.—One hundred twenty-six thousand Berlin metal workers, members of the largest trade union group in the world, laid down their tools today in protest at government's arbitrator's award of reduction in their wages. The reduction was of eight per cent for workers above 18 years of age, and of six per cent for those below that age.

The strike creates a new and menacing snarl in the German economic and political tangle. No one at present ventures to predict what it may mean to the nation's economic situation.

Every available policeman was kept on emergency duty today as police faced the three-fold task of preserving order in the metal strike and factory districts, in the neighborhood of the Prussian diet, and around the Reichstag.

On horseback and afoot, and in scores of motor lorries the blue-uniformed "schupo" were very much in evidence in all important thoroughfares.

The government has one chance of nipping the strike in the bud. This would be by ordering a new arbitrator to review the situation once more before declaring the award binding. This step it was expected, will be taken tomorrow but there was general skepticism that it would be effective.

DISCUSS BETTER COUNTY SCHOOLS

Rural Areas Form Topic During Meetings Held In County
By State Man

LISBON, Oct. 15.—Boards of education in Knox, West, Butler, Hanover and Franklin townships will meet at Hanoverton tonight for the purpose of discussing with George Morris, rural supervisor of the state department of education, the possibility of better school facilities in these townships.

Morris addressed a meeting at Calcutta last night where a bond issue of $60,000 has been proposed for the betterment of schools in St. Clair township.

The meeting at Hanoverton has been suggested by County Superintendent of Schools H. C. Leonard. Several different projects have been proposed for the betterment of the school situation in these rural townships, but no definite program has been determined.

Representatives of nine boards of education in the five western townships will attend the open forum at Hanoverton.

There's enjoyment in the smoking of a Camel. Camels go with happy faces... a lift of spirits with the opening of every fresh, fragrant pack. Michigan Gridders Face Big Test Against Ohio State Team

THE DAY In Sports

Youngstown South High school's football team clashes with Salem High gridders at the South stadium on Saturday, November 8 in what South fans deem as one of the most important contests on their team's schedule. Second only to the rivalry among various Youngstown schools is the Salem-Youngstown game according to South fans who last week visited Salem as spectators at the Warren battle here. Coach Busty Ashbaugh is after revenge for the decisive trimming handed his lads by the Stonemen in 1929.

South is one of a few schools to have defeated a Salem High team more times than the Red and Black has registered victories. The 14-12 verdict annexed by Floyd Stone's charges last year marked the second time in the history of relationship between the two schools that Salem had defeated South and the first victory for Salem in 17 years. Since 1912 Youngstown South teams have met the Red and Black 12 times in grid warfare. In only three games has Salem scored against the Southmen.

The first game won by Salem was in 1913, the second time the teams met. The score was 19-0. In 1912 South won by a 44-0 margin and it wasn't until 1922 in the day of Bill McKeown, Chris Roessler, Al Sattick and other Salem stars of a few years ago, that Salem scored against the Youngstowners.

Scores of games played between the schools follow:

Year	Salem	South
1913	19	0
1914	0	7
1915	0	7
1916	0	61
1919	0	26
1920	0	31
1921	0	7
1922	6	33
1927	0	7
1929	14	12

South's total score is 243 to Salem's 43. Quite an edge.

A question asks whether Salem ever played Youngstown Rayen in football. These schools met on the gridiron six times and Salem has yet to win from the Rayenites although two of the six games ended in a tie. In 1905 they battled to a 6-6 draw and in the same season played again, this time Rayen gaining a 6-0 victory. Rayen won again in 1911, this time by an 8-0 margin while in 1913 the Youngstown school won by a 24-0 score. They tied in 1915, 0-0 and in their last battle Rayen won, 13-7. This was played in 1916.

A fan asks for publication of South's record to date. Ashbaugh's lads have lost two games. One to Horace Mann High of Gary, by a 32-14 score. Against the Hoosiers South displayed power and now it is hoped as the stiffest opponent on the Red and Black's 1930 schedule. Boardman was defeated 25-0. Campbell Memorial was licked 13-0 while Cleveland Lakewood inflicted the second setback by a 13-0 margin.

Just how Salem will stack up against South may be judged out when the Quakers meet Youngstown East here a week from Friday. Memorial, which lost to South by two touchdowns, walloped East 21-0 last Saturday.

One year ago in Salem sports-grid fans here banquet high football squads at Elks' building. . . . ninth inning rally by Athletics nets three runs and world series over Chicago Cubs by 3-2 score. . . . Harry Heilmann sold to Cincinnati Reds by Detroit Tigers.

Today—Salem works out for New Philly game. . . . Floyd Stone, Ralph Zimmerman and other Ohio Univee fans still have a hang-over from West Liberty's upset of last week. . . . Russ Plick is dependent over the Oberlin-Case game. . . . Ed Beck is suffering from badly cut lips. . . . Fred Bova is picking Tech to trim Notre Dame. . . . Glenn Whinnery is on the freshmen A squad at Ohio State.

Fairmount Bulls To Play At Night

The Fairmount Bulls, widely known independent football team will clash with the Canton Bull Dogs at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday at the Mt. Union stadium.

Thus far the Bulls are undefeated, having won over the I. G. A. Grocers, Canton, Pa. and Meyers Motors of Canton. To date no opposing team has crossed their goal line.

Wolverine Fans Hope For Big Ten Laurels With Purdue Trimmed

BY WILLIAM WEEKES

(By Associated Press) CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Whether Michigan is its old rebuff self will be determined to a large extent at Columbus, Ohio, Saturday where it will test its claws on Ohio State university.

Michigan has not had what Michigan calls a successful football season since 1926, but with a victory over Purdue, the 1929 Big Ten champion, already accomplished, hope is high in Ann Arbor for an unmarred conference slate. If the Wolverine gets by the powerful, but

SINGER DEFEATS MACK IN FIGHT

Lightweight Champ Races To Decision Over Denver Battler

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Al Singer, the ruler of the world's lightweight boxers, owned a decisive victory for his initial appearance in Chicago, but was considerably leg-weary young man.

Engaging in his first bout in his own division since he knocked the crown from Sammy Mandell's head last July, Singer scored a one-sided victory over Eddie Mack of Denver, in the stadium last night, but it required ten rounds of everlasting running after the westerner to gain him the decision of the referee and judges.

Mack appeared awed at finding himself in the same ring with the world champion, and devoted the 30 minutes of action running away from Singer's whizzing left hooks and earnest right swings.

Singer was credited with nine of the ten rounds, with one even. The 9,524 spectators, most of whom came to the stadium with the sole hope of seeing the king flatten Mack, were disappointed and booed the decision.

The fireworks again were provided by King Levinsky, the west side fish distributor, who kept telling fly with his devastating right until he tagged Tom Kirby of Boston, in the second round of a ten rounder. The King looked somewhat foolish in missing, but when he landed on Kirby's chin, the result was extremely convincing.

Old-Time Stars To Clash Turkey Day

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Notre Dame and Northwestern football stars of other years will meet on Soldiers field Thanksgiving day, in a certain rarer contest to the Oregon State-West Virginia Shriners' hospital benefit game.

Tim Lowrey, Northwestern captain in 1925, has collected together Waldo Fisher, Hank Finkler, Bill Calderwood, Skeets Wieman, Russ Berghem, Yatz Levison and Heinie Anderson, former Wildcat stars, for the game. Coach Knute Rockne will select an all-Notre Dame eleven.

Loyola Schools To Battle In South

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Two dozen Loyola university football players today headed for New Orleans where they clash with their namesake school, Loyola university of the south, Friday night.

The loss of Ted Connelly, star quarterback, dimmed the hopes of the Chicago players.

Dartmouth Meets Columbia in Grid Classic

Perhaps one of the most interesting of the early Fall football games will be played at Hanover on October 18, when Dartmouth will march to the grid field for an encounter with Columbia University team. Dartmouth will have in the lineup: Paul Crehan, of Roxbury, Mass.; Arne Frigard, of Maynard, Mass.; and Bill Morton, of New Rochelle, New York. The New

FOOTBALL TEAMS MAY AID CHARITY

Northwestern And Notre Dame Game May Go To Soldier Field

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—A proposal to play football for charity was being given serious consideration today by Northwestern university and the University of Notre Dame.

The two schools are scheduled to play at Dwyer stadium, Evanston, November 22. The Tribune today sponsored a move to have the game transferred from the stadium, which has a capacity of 50,000 spectators, to Soldier Field, where as many as 110,000 persons may be seated.

The plan provides that the money realized from the sale of 50,000 tickets—the most that could possibly be sold at Dwyer stadium—would be divided among the two football teams.

The money realized on the sale of additional tickets, possibly 60,000, would go to charity.

Should the proposal be accepted by the two schools, the Tribune said, it would mean at least $100,000 for charity, and possibly $250,000.

Second-Business Experience

The Home has been in business for more than forty years. It was organized in 1889 and its first dividend on savings accounts was paid January 1, 1890. Six months later another dividend was paid, and each subsequent six months has seen other dividends, all actually earned and paid out of the profits of the business. Few, if any, of the stocks listed on Wall Street can show an unbroken record of dividends actually earned and paid, year in and year out for forty years.

During these forty years this country has experienced a number of business depressions, some of which have been quite severe. One came in 1893, another in 1903, a third in 1907, a fourth in 1920, and the last depression starting last fall is still with us. The Home weathered each of the preceding depressions successfully, earning and paying its five per cent—and sometimes more—and adding to its surplus, each six months, in bad times as well as good. And it is weathering the present depression in the same manner and with the same success that it weathered the preceding depressions.

EAST SUFFERS FROM DROUGHT

Water Supplies Short In Several Cities; Farms Badly Affected

NEW YORK Oct. 15.—A prolonged drought throughout the east today brought fears of a water famine and serious crop damage. The situation was viewed with such alarm in Philadelphia that the Presbyterian Ministerial association urged prayers be offered for rain.

Rain has not fallen to any appreciable extent in Philadelphia for 18 days. Throughout Pennsylvania communities were suffering from a shortage of water and crops were being endangered by the dry spell.

At Marietta, Lancaster county, a house to house check of water leaks was ordered and posters put up asking residents to refrain from washing clothes.

Throughout New England mid-summer temperatures prevailed, while in rural sections of Connecticut wells were dry and both residents and cattle faced a water famine.

The water famine extended into Maryland where at Annapolis the reservoir was so low its sides have been described as resembling a deserted football stadium. The city has been drawing 200,000 gallons of water daily from the private supply at the United States Naval academy.

The prolonged dry spell in New Jersey has resulted in an outbreak of forest fires, thirty being reported in the state.

NEW YORK—Mary Garden has found a thrill equal to that of champagne, a thrill the legality of which is unquestioned. It is singing over the radio.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

Perhaps the revival of interest in early American furniture is responsible for the growing popularity of candles, not only as supplementary table decoration, but for mellow illumination. There's some magic about candlelight—and it can't be supplanted even by electric bulbs that imitate candles.

The simplest tea or dinner table is made glamorous if lighted by two or four candles. With, perhaps, a small shallow bowl or flowers nearby. Candlesticks of silver, pewter, glass or pottery are now made in modernistic designs and there are also available some beautiful reproductions of old-fashioned holders.

There's a difference in candles, too. The tall, tapering ones are the most graceful, but no matter what their shape, they should be good quality, dripless, so that their appearance is not marred during use. If, however, one has acquired candles that are found to drip, they may be given a home treatment. If an ordinary candle is coated with a soap solution (2 tablespoons of soap flakes dissolved in one cup of hot water) and then allowed to cool and dry it will not drip. However, the commercial non-drip candles are not costly and it pays to buy the best since the difference is so slight.

Candles and candlesticks that are used at table should not be so tall that they interfere with the diners' view of each other. This is an item that must be remembered before-hand—otherwise the very hand-some effect of stately candles is later marred by the evident annoyance it causes to the two persons who find it an obstruction. It is the pale, golden glow of the candles that makes the atmosphere so pleasant—not their impressive size.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

"A Vocados" used to be mentioned in the same respectful tone as truffles or caviar luxuries of the indulgent rich. But they are now more abundant, and in season are on the same price level as grapefruit.

Avocados or "alligator pears," as they are sometimes called, are not particularly flavorful. They are

mealy, very delicate and a good background to other stronger flavors. Like the banana, which is at its best when slightly tinged with brown spots and somewhat soft, the avocado is in its prime when no longer green. Not too soft, but yielding slightly to the touch, its outer skin turning from green to brown.

There are several ways of preparing the avocados, depending upon its appearance at a meal. If a first course it can be mixed with a tart fruit as cocktail. Peel the thick skin, cut in half, remove the large hard pit inside. Cut the pear in slices or cubes and mix with slices of peeled grapefruit or orange or pineapple. Season with lemon juice if desired.

Tart Dressing

Or cut the avocado in half and remove the pit, but not the skin. Fill the cavity with a tart dressing. Mayonnaise or Russian dressing or a Thousand Island dressing are excellent. Or the usual cocktail sauce—Chili sauce, horseradish, lemon juice and Worcestershire mixed together.

Most important any salad with an avocado pear content must be well chilled. Unless it is icy cold it will have too flat a taste.

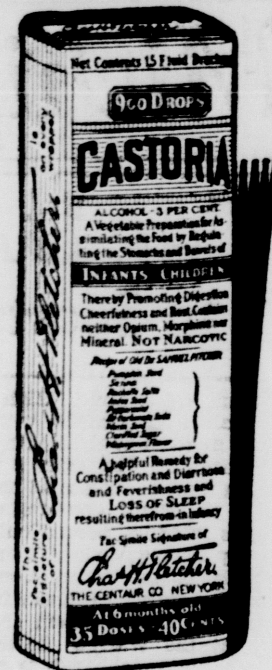

Another pleasant mixture is to cut the peeled avocado in slices resembling orange or grapefruit slices and pile alternately with these on romaine or endive. Serve with a thick dressing, well chilled.

Can't PLAY Can't REST

—child needs Castoria

WHEN a child is fretful and irritable, seems distressed and uncomfortable, can't play, can't sleep, it is a pretty sure sign that something is wrong. Right here is where Castoria fits into a child's scheme—the very purpose for which it was formulated years ago! A few drops and the condition which caused the trouble is righted; comfort quickly brings restful sleep.

Nothing can take the place of Castoria for children; it's perfectly harmless, yet always effective. For the protection of your wee one—for your own peace of mind—keep this old reliable preparation always on hand. But don't keep it just for emergencies; let it be an every-day aid. Its gentle action will ease and soothe the infant who cannot sleep. In more liberal doses it will effectively help to regulate sluggish bowels in an older child. All druggists have Castoria; it's genuine if you see Chas. H. Fletcher's signature and this name-plate:

STOMACH UPSET

Get at the liver cause. That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the liver cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets help arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, people rarely suffer from indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Try Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound. Know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain. All druggists, 15c, 30c and 60c.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like.

Cleaner Homes Result From Service Offered By American Laundry

For a half century women in America have made wondrous progress from their present position in the world of affairs it hardly seems possible that the old idea of women being confined to household tasks ever held sway. Nor does it seem possible that the thought women could never make a success in business life prevailed. Perhaps the only reason these two ideas ever got the hold upon the public they did was because the work in the household had to be done, and there was no other way to do than by hand labor. So women, with their adaptability, had to do it.

How much the world in days gone by lost through this remains to be seen. Surely no one could measure it now. But one thing has been established pretty definitely now—that women's brains are too valuable to allow women to waste their time over a washday. It is too great an economic loss, to say nothing of the physical strain. The woman who does her washing these days must greatly underestimate her value to the world.

Laundries are so much better equipped to do the family washing; they do the washing itself so much better, and the clothing and other articles actually look cleaner and wear better, that it is really more of a waste than easily apparent to try to do such work at home. The care taken in the modern laundry is so great, the cleanliness is superb, and the labor saving is so marked, that women all over the city are sending their weekly wash to the American Laundry & Dry Cleaning company, which has several methods of doing the family wash. Your clothes may be simply washed and rough dried, or they may be completely ironed, and there are plans by which your work may be done just so far as desired. In fact, this laundry is ready and willing to free women from drudgery just to the extent the women desire. The work of the laundry is unquestionably excellent, and you are invited to use its facilities to the utmost for your own comfort. All laundry work is carried on under the personal supervision of B. C. Carey, who has been with the firm for nine years. R. C. Gibbs is manager of the company.

In addition, this firm has a complete dry cleaning service, featuring the famous Miraclean system. They clean everything from a suit or dress to rugs and draperies. Their linen and towel services are used by business houses all over this section. Many folks are enjoying the prompt service they get by calling 295.

NEW YORK—Sidney Franklin, Flatbush tendorer, back from Spain, has no plans to introduce bullfighting into the United States. "There would be too much competition from miniature golf courses I have heard about," he explained.

USED PARTS FOR CAR BOUGHT AT LOWER PRICES

Large Stock Available At Axelrod Yards In This City

In the vast stock of parts available at the Axelrod Auto Parts company, 511 E. Pershing, the automobile owners of this community have a big asset. This concern buys wrecked cars regularly. These cars are dismantled, the parts examined, and the worn ones sent to the junkman. The parts that are available for service are offered for sale at much less than such parts can be bought now.

Automobile manufacturing has been brought to such perfection that many of these could not well be sold from new parts. If worn at all, the wear is very slight—not enough to affect the working. Hence it is certainly good judgment, in the event of the giving way of any part of a car, to see if it cannot be replaced by one of these. The big volume of business done by this firm means that it is quite likely to have in stock any part of any machine.

Thus it is possible to obtain quick service at low cost in the replacement. Garages throughout all this part of the country have long since learned the value of this service.

At all times the Axelrod yard has on hand used tires and used batteries. As may be expected, these are in various states of usefulness and priced accordingly. The man who is particular may always find bargains here, and few people call on them for parts without going away satisfied.

The Axelrod folks will buy cars in any state of wreck or whole.

Environment Of Home Has Great Influence On Child

Interesting studies of the effects of various colors and surroundings have been made from time to time on adults, but not a great deal of attention has been paid to the same problems in children. In fact, a great deal of the research work of the past has been on the basis that children would make the best of what they could get, and the adults only would be influenced with surroundings. Of course, as a matter of fact, children are more affected by the environment than adults, although the effect on the latter is very great.

Not enough has yet been learned to draw very definite conclusions, perhaps, beyond the fact that a child's affection for its home is not governed entirely by the treatment it receives, but is also affected by the home itself.

It has been brought out that children are dwarfed in their expression and often in their studies by a sense of gloom. The house that is gloomy is not a fitting place for the youngsters. It has also been found that children raised amid bright surroundings are quicker of thought and keener of intellect.

One of the easiest ways to make a home brighter and with more of a sense of happiness is to decorate it so that spirits are kept up by the eye. The modern wall papers recognize this fact. They make a darning and altogether pleasing use of colors, and do this on the scientific basis that certain colors enliven and others rest.

After all, the wall paper is the principal decoration of a home. It furnishes the background for all the rest, and its importance is predominant. The Redinger Wall Paper & Paint Co., 196 South Broadway, supply a great deal of the wall paper used in and surrounding territory and they believe in the value of correct decoration of the home. Their stocks are selected with the thought of that in mind. Those homeowners of this community who want to make ideal conditions in their homes for the children will give a great deal of thought to this part of the home, and Fred Redinger will be able to help them select from the large stocks the most suitable. This firm also has a complete stock of paints, enamels and varnishes, giving a wide choice of finishes and colors.

SPEEDY SERVICE FEATURES WORK BY WELDING CO.

Whether it is a tank or a gear or a frame or any one of a hundred other things that give way at the wrong time, if a good job of welding will cure the trouble, well informed Salem people send it to the Umstead Welding Co. Many a factory employee owes his pay envelope for a week to Umstead's hurry up job; many a contractor faced with a week's idleness of men and equipment endures Umstead because the threatened week of idleness was cut to a day by his quick work.

For Umstead is a man who likes to overcome difficulties and welcomes them with a smile. He likes to tackle those jobs the other fellows say cannot be done. Somehow, he irons out the difficulties. At that, makeshift work never appears to him. He does it right, or not at all. The frame that he welds holds together. It is there to stay. The gear that is stripped gets new teeth that last as long as the original.

To do these things Umstead has a perfectly equipped shop, and he employs a force of men that are experienced in the trade.

Men who have the responsibility for machinery on their hands, and men who want the best of work when they need it, should keep acquainted with Umstead. He is a present help in time of trouble. Phone him over 376.

JEWELS VIEWED AS IDEAL GIFT

Suggestions Offered At Art The Jeweler's Salem Store

One of the happy customs of this old world is the giving of gifts to people we love. In that millennial age to come about which many people think a great deal, perhaps everybody will be able to give full expression to the old adage that it is more blessed to give than to receive; but as things are now most people cannot often let that sentiment have full play. When they do, however, the choice of the gift should receive a great deal of consideration.

From time immemorial, the giving of jewelry has been the highest token of affection, and as such it still prevails. Only now one has a bewildering choice in the stores of such places as the store of Art The Jeweler, 462 East State street. Here he can find real works of art in gifts, all the way from a handsome little pencil up to a diamond like a headlight. The gifts do not stop with ornamental articles, either. There are hundreds of useful articles in artistic forms—silverware, china, glassware, pewter, toilet sets, leather goods, pens and many others.

Seeking a gift should lead your steps to Art's for another reason as well, for whatever you get there is worth giving—really fine in quality as well as appearance, selected because of that, and sold at prices you can afford to pay for goods that are worth buying.

LONG DISTANCE HAULING DONE BY F. G. HARRIS

Promptness Is Factor Of Service In Making Concern Popular

"We like to feel that in the performance of our work, people may rely on our thoroughness and on the promptness and consideration with which it is done," declared F. G. Harris of the Harris Garage and Storage company at 485 West State. "There is nothing much more exasperating than the delay in moving caused by the failure of the vans to appear, unless it is the neglect to do a job of commercial hauling when it is promised. People make their own plans dependent upon the mover, and when he delays they feel they have a real grievance. We try in this place to prevent anything like that. With the trucks we have available, it is rare indeed that anything can happen to compel us to disappoint people."

"Our storage warehouse is always available for the reception of goods, whether it be for a single night or for a term of months. We use every reasonable precaution to keep the goods of our patrons in fine order and to deliver them promptly when wanted."

"In our long distance moving we have connections that enable us to give exceptional service, whether the moving be only a few miles or several hundred. Vans follow a regular schedule and arrive on time, frequently having the goods placed where they belong long before other means of transportation report their arrival."

Trucking gets our very prompt attention. We realize that when a business wants a consignment of goods, delay is serious, and our men are continually making new records in promptness and safe handling.

SYDNEY, N. S.—It takes quite an injury to deter a real golfer. Lord Willington, governor general of Canada, got a black eye when a ball struck him at Braddeck Saturday, but he was back on the links after a layoff for the Sabbath.

McMILLAN RADIO IMPROVED WITH NEW EQUIPMENT

Advantages Explained By Salem Distributor Of New Type Sets

Owners of McMillan radios are proud to tell their friends that they own a McMillan. There is a natural pride in having the best, and if anything better could be built into a radio, McMillan would have it, according to E. L. Grate, its distributor in Salem.

"The new models 1930-31 McMillan radios are just that—quality throughout," Grate stated today. Improvements have been added to insure reception as clear of annoyance as possible. The new tuning arrangement is sharp and definite. The slightest turn of the knob has an instantaneous effect. The illuminated dial has calibrated markings for both kilocycles and meters for prompt and easy location of distant stations. Heavy gauge steel is used for foundation and shielding. There is an appearance of battle ship ruggedness that assures of long life."

There are times when excessive volume is essential, but not with the sacrifice of clarity. The giant dynamic speaker fed by the nine-tube circuit gives you the desired volume, yet at all times the full range of tone is clear—from the heavy boom of the bass viol or tuba, to the clear, sweet notes of the piccolo or violin.

This tone range is a feature of the McMillan. It is made possible by a new type of audio amplifier perfected by the McMillan engineers. You may turn up the power for a veritable avalanche of sound, or down for the faintest whisper.

The laboratory has produced the circuit used in all McMillan radios only after exhaustive research. We believe we have the finest chassis it is possible for us to produce, and your first trial makes this at once apparent. The new audio system is in itself an achievement. The circuit comprises nine tubes, and all models have a self contained phonograph pickup connection. Truly the McMillan is a sensational radio achievement.

DAIRY LUNCH IN SALEM STRESSES BUYING OF FOOD
A great part of the real service in a restaurant is in the buying of the food, and therefore never meets the public eye. Many restaurants, because the public eye does not see this service, make the mistake of buying a little less than the best quality, in the impression that the customers will not know the difference. It is the aim, however, of a real restaurant man to serve only the best of whatever he has, and in the long run, as exemplified by the Dairy Lunch restaurant at 295 East Ellsworth, this is the only right way.

A TROUBLED WORLD
STRIKING AGAINST EDISON
WALL STREETS' PROBLEM
—By Arthur Brisbane
Copyright 1930 By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

TROUBLES ALL OVER THE world. In Spain, students burn a
prime minister, closes the University of Barcelona.

Before burning the picture, the students cut out the head mounted on a pole and paraded the streets with it.
That is a mild, but unpleasantly
the imitation of French revolutionary officials that advised peasants to eat grass if they had no bread.
He mob stuffed the dead mouth with grass, put the head on the end of a pole, and paraded with it.

TWO MAPS, RECENTLY PUBL-ISHED, will be studied by future historians. One shows locations of 11 speakies in the national capital. Innumerable black specks, each indicating a bootleg resort, make the map look like the face of a child with chicken pox.
The other map shows South America, its revolutionary sections easily shaded. A few small white spots show smaller states, Chile, Colombia, Venezuela, Ecuador, Paraguay and Uruguay still peaceful.

This country may congratulate itself on the fact that if it hadn't lost its nerve, after a destructive stock gambling fever, it would have little worry.

It has no revolutionary tendencies that "cannot be taken care of by the police, and, more important, it has no "dole," such as in England, destroying desire to work in millions of men, putting idleness on a national subsidy basis.

A STRIKE IN THE EDISON factory at Orange, N. J., was necessary, perhaps, if it be a fact that ages were reduced. But any workman knowing what Edison has done or workers, must find it hard to all a strike against him.

Thanks to Edison millions are at work all over the world, at good wages, and millions live in comfort unknown before Edison's work began.

However, he is 83 years old, a philosopher. And knows that the Charges Of Democrats In Campaign Branded As Being Ridiculous

TOLEDO, Oct. 15.—Gov. Myers
f. Cooper emphasized his bid for re-election on the record of his administration and struck back at the charges of extravagance by George White of Marietta, the Democratic candidate in carrying his campaign into Lucas county last night.

Cooper charged White with failing to understand the difference between legislative and administrative functions. "His charges in the main are too ridiculous to answer, but even he should know the legislature makes the appropriations," he governor said.

"There has been no extravagance and he knows it."
Cooper made a half a dozen advances during the day and evening, each time reviewing his "record of reaccomplishments made and a constructive program well under way."

M'CULLOCH TO ATTEND RALLY HERE
Republicans Endorse Litty For County Treasurer

County Committee In Action After Edwards
Withdraws From Race

Name Must Be Written On Ballot To Elect
Salem Resident

CLOSE CONTEST IN PRIMARY VICTORY

Edward's Name Still To Appear On Ballot On November 4

John C. Litty, Salem real estate dealer, was endorsed as the Republican candidate for the office of treasurer of Columbiana county at a meeting of the executive and advisory committees of the Republican county central committee at Lisbon Tuesday night.

Litty was named to succeed A.
Earl Edwards of East Liverpool, whose resignation as the Republican nominee was accepted by the committee. Edwards defeated Litty in a close race for the nomination in the August primaries.

The Salem man's name will not appear on the Republican ballots to be presented voters at the election on Nov. 4. Ballots have already been printed and electors wishing to cast votes in his favor will be compelled to write his name in on the ticket.

Edwards' letter announcing his resignation was submitted to the committee by Council Ray Adams of East Liverpool.

Gives His Reasons
His action, Edwards said in the letter, was promoted by "certain publications in reference to alleged irregularity" in the conduct of his office as clerk of the East Liverpool municipal clerk.

Edwards' name will appear on ballots in the election despite his withdrawal from the race. He won the nomination for the treasurership in a race involving four candidates.

Litty agreed to permit his name to be written in on ballots at the meeting in Lisbon. The vacancy created on the ticket by Edwards' resignation cannot be filled by appointment, according to Ohio statutes, and ballots which have already been printed must be submitted to voters.

FEDERALS CLAIM
ARMY ADVANCES
ON WIDE FRONT

Victories Are Reported In Two Engagements By Government

REBEL LEADERS REMAIN SILENT

Officials Believe Support Of Cause On Wane And Opposition Falling

BULLETIN
(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The full support of the state department behind the Brazilian revolutionary government in the present revolution was officially announced today by Secretary Stimson.

(By Associated Press)
MONTEVIDEO, URUGUAY, Oct.
15.—Federal sources today claimed steady advance of their armies into revolutionary territory, with victories over insurgent forces reported on three fronts.

In two sections of the state of Minas Geraes, government forces had the rebel troops in retreat, while two columns operating on the 200-mile Sao Paulo Parana front forced fighting back into Parana, away from the Sao Paulo border.

Insurgent quarters were silent regarding the federal claims, making only such general statements as that the advance of the "Gauchos", or Rio Grande Do Sul cowboys, continued. Rebel leaders continued to claim a victory at Cariolipa, in the era's disputed.

Claim Parana Victory
A federal force yesterday fought for possession of the bridgehead at Sergues, in Parana, and won. Other federal forces, on the left of the long rebel front, claimed to have occupied Santo Antonio Da Plata, and other localities in northern Parana.

The federal advance into interior Minas Geraes, about which insurgent quarters always have been comparatively silent, continues with forces far inland toward Belo Hor-izonte, capital of the state.

The federal advance is now said to be with little opposition. Officials believe that revolutionary support will wane and the state return to the national federation with but little more fighting.

KIDNAPERS FREE
CAPTIVE, MIRED MACHINE CAUSE

Promise Of Secrecy Gets Release For Woman;
Posses Out

(By Associated Press)
GREENFIELD, MO., Oct. 15.— Authorities investigating the kidnaping of Mrs. Alma Wilson Mc-Kinley, 25-year-old heiress, released late yesterday after being held captive for nearly a day, today expressed the opinion her abductor originally planned to capture and hold for ransom her millionaire father, Benton Wilson.

The opinion that Wilson was first intended as the victim was based on a note left at the Wilson home by the abductor, in which $60,000 was demanded for the release of Mrs. McKinley, an expectant mother. Investigators said the abductor's plans to collect ransom for the release of Mrs. McKinley were foiled when the Wilson motor car, in which she was forced to drive away, became mired in the mud near Jarvis Springs, Mo.

The note, revealed last night by Wilson after his daughter had returned home, was typewritten.

After the car had become mired in the mud, the abductor and Mrs.
McKinley walked along a road for several hours, during which time he instructed her to write a note saying she would be released upon payment of $30,000. Apparently fearful of capture, the abductor finally agreed to tear up the note if she would agree not to reveal where she was released.

She kept her word and today had supplied little information that would aid officials in their search.

After being released, Mrs. Mc-Kinley walked to a farm house near Stockton, about 20 miles from Greenfield, and telephoned home.
Her husband, Harold, and her father went after her.

Although unharmed, Mrs. Mc-Kinley was near exhaustion when the note left at the Wilson home warned relatives Mrs. McKinley would be "bumped off" if its contents were revealed to officials or newspapers.

Justice Speedy In County
Under Plan Of Prosecutor

Special Sessions Tend To Clear Dockets In Short Time

LISBON, Oct. 15.—The plan originated by Prosecuting Attorney John E. Bauknecht in calling special grand juries between the regular terms of court has resulted in the quick disposal of criminal cases and a marked saving to the county in the keep of prisoners.

The record of the prosecutor's office today discloses that an average of 78 days has elapsed from the time an offense was committed until sentence was pronounced by the court. The record also shows an average time of 24 days elapsed from the time an indictment was returned until the court pronounced sentence.

During the last two years five special sessions have been held, and another will probably be called in November.

Grand juries were in session a total of 28 days and considered 247 cases after examining 672 witnesses. These juries returned 171 true bills, ignored 58 cases, referred six cases to probate court and continued 12 cases.

Hold 23 Trials
During this period, 23 jury trials were held, three of which were re-trials, resulting in 16 convictions and one acquitted. There were two cases where the jury disagreed, and in one case there was a verdict of acquittal returned by a jury by direction of the court.

During the same period 147 pleas of guilty were entered in common pleas court, and with convictions by juries a total of 163 prisoners were Drum corps and bands from at least six Ohio cities are expected to participate in the annual Halloween celebration planned in Salem by Charles H. Carey post No. 56, American Legion, on the night of Friday, October 31.

This year's celebration is expected to develop into the most pretentious fall festivals ever held in this city. Outstanding attractions are being planned for the affair together with the appearance of a number of Legion drum corps and bands.

The Salem post plans to develop the celebration into a county gathering and is extending invitations to residents of Leetonia, Lisbon and East Palestine to attend the affair.
Merchants of this city are cooperating with members of the Legion committee in efforts to make the event a success.

More than 1,000 costumed mummers will march in the parade which will be one of the evening's highlights. Prize lists are now being arranged by the post in conjunction with merchants.

The drum corps and bands ex-

FREIGHT AGENT
SALEM SPEAKER

Rotarians Hear Railroad Man Stress Value Of Transportation

Railroads have played an important part in the development of this country and will continue to do so, for this means of transportation never will be eliminated.

That is the message brought to the Rotary club Tuesday afternoon by O. L. Frederick of Canton, division freight agent of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Pointing out that there are 412,- 000 miles of railroad lines in the United States, Frederick declared that this country has the best transportation lines in the world, with an average freight cost of one-third less than other countries. The railroad business is the second largest in the country, agriculture ranking as first.

The speaker referred to the importance of Salem as a shipping point, the Pennsylvania railroad moving between 500 and 600 cars a week out of Salem under normal conditions. Six cents out of every dollar collected by the railroad goes to pay taxes, he said.

In referring to the growth of truck and bus business, Frederick expressed the opinion that motor transportation should be subject to state and federal regulatory bodies just as are railroads.

The speaker was introduced by Charles Wolfe, Pennsylvania agent at Salem.

Officer Named By Legion Auxiliary

Mrs. Frank Fison was chosen president of the American Legion auxiliary at a meeting Tuesday evening when officers for the ensuing year were selected. Her associate officers are: First vice president, Mrs. Ray Parce; second vice president, Mrs. Clifford Stoudt; secretary, Mrs. Don Stirling; treasurer, Mrs. John Litty.

Mrs. J. Edward Johns of Massillon state vice president, was guest of the auxiliary and gave a talk of interest to the members.

Mrs. Johns pointed out that there is an increasing demand on the auxiliaries for hospital work, etc., and that every member of the organization should feel her responsibility for this work.

The fall conference will be held at Massillon on Oct. 28. Members planning to attend are to call Mrs.
Ralph Sturgeon by Oct. 25.

The next meeting will be held on Monday afternoon, Oct. 27, at the home of Mrs. Alice Bye, at Damascus. Those planning to attend are to be at the hall by 1:30. A covered dish supper preceded this session.

VILLAGES FACE WATER FAMINE; CREEK IN USE

Pump Water To Cisterns; Fear Fire May Bring Dire Results

(By International News Service)
DILLONVALE, O., Oct. 15.—Members of the Dillonvale volunteer fire department today began pumping water from Short creek into cisterns in this village in an effort to provide partial relief from the drought, which is afflicting the 1,500 residents more than at any time since the water shortage began six months ago.

The village is not provided with a municipal water system. Many of the wells and all cisterns have been dry, causing much inconvenience.

Fire Chief Walter Manifold has agreed to put the town pump into service and will pump water from a giant fire cistern at the edge of Short creek, laying hose lines to any homes desiring the service.

The water is polluted with copperas from coal mines between here and Cadiz and is unfit for drinking or cooking but will be satisfactory for washing purposes.

CROOKSVILLE, Oct. 15.—The water shortage here is again beginning to worry waterworks officials who report an extremely low stage of water in the municipal wells.

Village officials have recommended that the most rigid economy should be practiced in order that a sufficient supply can be kept on hand in the city reservoir for fire fighting purposes.

Similar conditions are said to exist in all Perry county towns due to lack of rainfall.

Burning Leaves On City Streets Taboo

Salem police and firemen will cooperate in enforcement of city ordinances prohibiting burning of leaves on streets of the city, Mayor
J. M. Davidson stated today.

Complaints have been received in the two departments from many residents, it was explained, stating that fires are being built in streets, damaging the streets, pavement and also imperiling nearby homes.

Fire Chief V. L. Malloy announced that special stress is placed on the restriction of burning fires on new asphalt streets, saying that the heat ruins the pavement.

No fires shall be built on any street, alley or public grounds, the mayor stated. Violation of the ordinance will result in immediate arrests.

Salem Librarians
Attend Gathering

Miss Alice Gladden and Mrs.
Frank W. Lease of the Salem public library, left this morning for Dayton where they will attend the bi-state meeting of librarians.

The session calls together members of library staffs throughout Ohio and Indiana and will be one of the largest of conventions of its kind ever held in this state.

Mrs. Lease and Miss Gladden will attend the sessions for three days. They were also invited to attend a reception for librarians scheduled at Columbus by Gov. and Mrs. Myers Y. Cooper.

and here will be joined by Salem Republicans who will escort the guests of honor to the Elks home.

John H. Irwin of East Palestine, committee, with the aid of the county executive and advisory committees, completed plans for the county tour today.

Senator McCulloch, who is spending Wednesday in Youngstown, will go to East Palestine Thursday

Advantages Of Reforestation In

At County Seat Tuesday

Advantages of reforestation and necessities of its practice in Ohio were explained by Edmund Seest, state forester, at a gathering of more than 100 Columbiana county residents at Lisbon Tuesday night.

Seest discussed the methods of reforestation as used in Germany, France and other European countries and showed their advantages.
He explained that in Ohio there have been developed 55,000 acres of state forests and 15 state parks but that no county forests have as yet been developed.

Decrease in forest fires and other beneficial results were explained due to Ohio's reforestation work.
Slides were shown of two state nurseries maintained for the sowing of seedlings which are sold at less than cost of growing.

Much interest was shown in the

ing of Salem is father of the plan.
Atty. C. G. McCormick, also of this concerning the subject and will announce members of the committee

BEVERLY HILLS, CAL., Oct.

row stands today so much higher in the public estimation than all our old line politicians.
You might be against his opinions, but you admire his di-everything he talks on. Any other man that had his chance for the presidential nomination would wait and hedge around and not come out either way, and in that way embarrass the

But not Morrow. He just

SCHOOL BOND ISSUE

Proposed bond issue for $385,000 for the erection of a modern high school building in Salem was not received with popular acclaim when first presented by the board of education for approval of voters at the November election. The board's subsequent action in selecting the highest bidder as architect has served to hasten the death of an issue that, under most favorable circumstances, had little chance to survive.

When the school board opened bids from architects early in September, it received the following estimates for constructing and equipping a building to house 700 students:

R. F. Medicus, Youngstown, $340,000; P. S. Barchhoff, Salem, $352,000; Canfield & Cook, Youngstown, $380,000; C. F. Owsley, Youngstown, $437,000; Clarence A. Kissenger, Youngstown, $482,000.

These estimates covered the board's specifications for a large auditorium, natatorium, cafeteria, and other modern features of educational institutions. Apparently keeping its eye on the lower bids, the board then determined upon a bond issue of $385,000, to cover cost of construction, purchase price of property and other requirements.

The next move was to eliminate from consideration two of the highest bidders, at the same time retaining the next highest. The bars were then thrown down to permit Miller and Son of Girard to take advantage of other architects' figures and submit a bid.

Not satisfied with this unethical procedure, the board of education immediately eliminated from all consideration the lowest bidder—R. F. Medicus—and Monday night went into final session on this issue with only three bids before them—those of P. S. Barchhoff, C. F. Owsley and Miller and Son.

In the meantime Mr. Owsley was permitted to adjust his estimate, but the shaving process failed to bring his figure below the $400,000 mark, which was still $60,000 higher than the lowest bid originally received, and discarded without a great deal of consideration. Three of the five board members voted to accept this high bid and if the voters are foolish enough to approve of this action, Mr. Owsley will collect a handsome premium for the privilege of footing an expensive building upon the taxpayers.

Here is the picture in brief: The voters are asked to approve a bond issue for an amount not sufficient to cover the architect's contract with the board of education. How can the board justify such action? And how can it satisfy the voters that it acted wisely in turning down the lowest bidders in order to favor the highest?

The News always has contended that progress of the community is dependant largely upon the progress of its school system. It always has encouraged improvements to the city's school properties to the end that a higher standard of education might be provided for its children. Whenever a school bond issue was placed before the voters, it urged support of that issue.

Today it finds itself in the position of having no other alternative than that of opposing this proposed bond issue of $385,000. A new building is needed, but not so urgently that economies should be scattered to the four winds and that the issue should be forced upon the voters in a year of unsatisfactory business and industrial conditions. It is possible to get along with facilities at hand—the superintendent of schools has admitted that—and it would have seemed to be logical reasoning to have deferred this bond issue until another year.

With such lack of judgment as

that shown in the selection of an architect's bid, it is all the more important that the bond issue be defeated. The board then would have ample opportunity to proceed along more economical lines. When that is done The News has faith in the voters' judgment to approve a bond issue within reason.

What Others Say

PRISON REFORM

A public service of great value to the welfare advisory commission appointed by Gov. Cooper after the Columbus prison fire. The six men named to the commission for five months have been studying prison conditions in this and other states. To this task they have devoted their time and money, without thought of remuneration from the state. For its unselfishness alone their effort deserves the gratitude of every citizen.

They have supplied, however, a more cogent reason for applause. In a preliminary report, submitted to the governor, the whole prison system of Ohio is taken apart for examination, and put together again, in plan, with all the more glaring of the old buses wiped out. This has been done in a courageous, straightforward manner, with no minced words, no effort to gloss over conditions which the whole state knows to be insufferable, or to shift or deny responsibility. The responsibility that has long been shrugged off by the legislature still lies in the hands of the body.

It is hardly necessary to repeat the commission's report of what it found at Ohio prisons. Overcrowding, idleness, lack of distinction between hardened criminals, feeble-minded and those who, with intelligent treatment, could be rescued for social usefulness; no basic theory of reform, probation, parole, and no opportunities to put such a theory into action even if it existed; a generally low level of personnel—these are perhaps among the most important indictments made in the report.

The keystone of the commission's recommendations for reform is the classification of prisoners and their segregation and treatment according to class. In this way, and only in this way, can the incorrigibly anti-social, the mentally defective and the prisoners for whom there is hope of reform be kept from association in the same pit. Without such a method, and the facilities necessary to employ it, the term prison reform is a joke.

Since the first of July a newly created scientific branch of the welfare department has been working toward classification of prisoners. The physical changes in the prison system advocated by the advisory commission look to an early day when classification can be put into effect. These changes, it might be said, call for expansion and reorganization of prisons, reformatories and schools already in use. Instead of a vast program of prison building, it suggests the addition of two new units, housing 1,200 prisoners each and a moderate expansion of the Grafton state farm. The insistence of the commission that now prison units should not exceed a capacity of 1,200 is in line with the need for segregated treatment and with modern thought on prison reform. When the commission points out that under present conditions, Ohio's prison population will double in the next ten years, its recommendation for a thorough revamping of methods of probation and parole demands serious consideration.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

WATCH YOUR FOOT

We are living in the age of machinery, and in every home mechanical devices are in common use. Every hamlet can supply extra parts to replace damaged or broken ones for your machine.

Unless you are in an accident that takes you to a police station, or the hospital, an automobile collision does not amount to much. The repair shop will restore everything to working order.

Your feet are the main parts in the machinery for the locomotion of your precious body. They are essential to your happiness and welfare. There may be artificial substitutes, but in the real sense there are no spare parts for this mechanism of locomotion.

Except when they hurt and ruin the pleasure of living, how often do you think about your feet? You spend a hundred dollars a year to keep your finger nails manicured and your hands looking well, but what do you do for your feet?

Many a person has made a wreck of himself by permitting sore feet to spoil his health and happiness. Nerves are put on edge and health undermined by steady pain, no matter where it is located. Take care of your feet.

Parents should see to it that their children are properly supervised when they begin to walk. It is essential that proper foot gear may be provided from earliest life. It is a good thing for grown children, as well as for the adults to have their feet examined at least once each year.

These examinations should be made by orthopedists, podiatrists or trained chiropodists. They are as important as examination to safeguard the sight, the hearing and the organs of the body. This is the teaching of all those who believe that prevention is better than cure.

Don't Be a "Foot Cripple"

Surveys made by the staff of the Foot Clinics of New York and given publicity through the United States Public Health Service, show that 60 per cent of adolescent girls are more or less foot defective. It should be our aim to prevent the misshapen feet they do exist. Then there will be fewer foot cripples. As a result, our citizens will carry themselves better. They will have normal posture, thus helping the race practically as well as to better its appearance.

I marvel more and more that people buy whatever is offered in the way of shoes. They select their furniture, table linen, and evening garments with the greatest of care. But when it comes to shoes they are sadly indifferent.

If you prize your comfort and efficiency you will not neglect your feet. You will take care of them and clothe them in the best fitting of shoes. Good shoes, properly adjusted, are infinitely more important than the kinds of shirts, skirts, vests or coats. Unless your feet are properly shod your usefulness is materially lessened.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Some 500 plastic surgeons in New York and at least a dozen private-home sanitariums attend to the growing demand of those who want noses bobbed, ears pruned and sagging cheeks ballooned. Not all are theatrical folk aching for a whirl at Hollywood. A large number are merely beauty mad.

In New York and Hollywood—the plastic surgery centers—some 4,000 faces have been reconstructed since the advent of movies and talkies. Boys and girls who fail in screen tests and have the price usually romp to a face fixer to take a flyer in surgical re-vamping.

Strides have been made in plastic surgery as a result of war time experiments, but it remains a dangerous expedient. Surgeons with big names have faced enormous suits for damages by those disgraced. Many men wear long beards and women heavy veils as a penalty for bungling.

Despite the successful operations, the conscientious surgeon admits there is always an element of danger.

Fannie Brice's nose job was a success and permitted her further to continue on the screen. Belle Baker, a prime vaudeville favorite, refused to submit to the knife.

Screen luminaries submitting to plastic surgery are Bebe Daniels, Mollie O'Day, Ruth Taylor and Vivienne Segal. Among the men are "It is Me, Georgie"—and won't someone please tell him?—Pride and Harry Richman. Due to mighty stockings, Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier had their bridges propped up.

Valentine was the first screen hero to have his ears trimmed. It was a minor difficulty but until performed he was not permitted to show himself full face. Nearly all screen idols who are past 35 have had face holds, an operation which has become more certain in results than most.

New York society women travel chiefly to Paris for such operations. In this isolation they are able to avoid tabloid publicity. However, two tragic instances of such experiments abroad are recorded. The ladies have set and frozen smiles and have never returned to America.

The newest of the young temperamental eccentricities of the town to be published is Werner Janssen, son of a cafe keeper. Beside writing music for several plays, he captured a Rome Fellowship for a composition. He accepts dinner engagements and shows up next evening, sails for long stays in Europe, hurries back in the same boat and all that. Dear, dear.

It was interesting to watch a six-foot bouncer handle a disturbing drunk in a restaurant last night. The disturber roamed from table to table, wearing a hat check boy's tambourine cap. He chuckled at strange ladies under the chin and heckled floor performers. The bouncer stood for a volley of guttery epithets while patiently jockeying the drunk to an exit. Then after a swift smack he drop-kicked him across the sidewalk. "There goes Yale for three yards!" cried a passing taxi driver.

The Stars Say—

For Thursday, Oct. 16.

Another very important and adventurous day is forecast by the ruling positions of major planets with reference to lunar transits. There is promise of a sudden and probably radical change in the affairs, attended by a general uprooting of business interests, as well as the environment. Business, new undertakings and the purely personal relations are under this disturbing, inciting and exciting planetary ray, but all combine to advance and enhance prosperity, progress and happiness.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a very eventful year, with the prospect of a radical change affecting the business relations, new projects, and involving domestic, social and affectional affiliations, with far-reaching effect. It is a safe time for renewing contracts and for launching new projects.

A child born on this day may be brilliantly clever, original, inventive and may make signal progress either in invention, research or in a cultural line. It may lean toward high adventure and romance and probably will attain high public place.

EMPLOYMENT ON UPTURN IN OHIO

Slackening Of Last 14 Months Has Slowed Down, Report

COLUMBUS, Oct. 15.—The rate of decline in Ohio industrial employment, which has been in progress for the past 14 months, is slackening, it was reported today by the bureau of business research at Ohio State university here.

The decline continued last month, the report states, "but at a slightly decreased rate as compared with the three preceding months." The September decline was 1.1 percent from August, in contrast with a five year average gain of 1 per cent for the month.

Non-manufacturing industrial employment, however, increased 4 per cent in Ohio in September over August, as against a five year average gain of only 1 per cent, the report continues.

Manufacturing and construction employment continued to fall off in September. The former was due to declines in the metal products, paper and printing, and rubber products industries.

There were employment increases in September from August in the textiles, vehicles, chemicals and food products groups. These gains ranged from 1 to 14 per cent. The lumber products, machinery, and stone, clay and glass products groups showed no change from August.

The bureau's report was compiled on the basis of returns from 907 Ohio concerns. Of these, 401 reported employment increases in September, 435 decreases, and 71 no change in employment from August.

The volume of non-manufacturing industrial employment in Ohio for the first nine months of 1930 was 7 per cent behind the corresponding period a year ago (Similarly, the volume of construction employment was 12 per cent less for the first nine months of 1930 as compared with the same period a year ago, and manufacturing employment 18 per cent less).

sentenced by Judge W. F. Lones.

During this same period the prosecutor's office had 20 trials in probate court, obtaining 13 convictions and seven acquittals; recorded. In addition there were 283 pleas of guilty entered in the probate court in which the prosecutor's office was concerned, and sentences pronounced, or a total of 295 defendants taken before the probate court by the prosecuting attorney's office. In all, 459 defendants were sentenced in the two courts during the last 21 months.

During this period there were eight civil trials in common pleas court in which the prosecutor's office represented different political subdivisions of Columbiana county as required by law.

Six of these cases were tried to a jury and two by the court, some in common pleas and others in probate. Four had to do, in the main, with the appropriation of land for various purposes.

Three cases were completed in the court of appeals, and the state was successful in two of these issues. Two other cases were completed in the Ohio supreme court, and the state was successful in both of these issues.

The office has also handled 43 tax foreclosure cases, the record having been cleared in each case.

In addition to this activity, the prosecutor's office has also advised county commissioners and other county officials, county and township boards of education and township trustees in numerous other matters of law.

Military Rule Prevails In Missouri Town; Order Negroes To Leave

STE. GENEVIEVE, MO., Oct. 15.—Ste. Genevieve was under military rule today for the second time this week after troops had been recalled when new threats of mob violence became evident, resulting from the failure of a Negro mail carrier and his two brothers to heed a warning to leave town.

Practically all other Negroes left here after the slaying early Sunday of one white man and the fatal wounding of another by three Negroes, two men and a woman, in a robbery.

The troops, who had left for their homes only yesterday after danger of trouble appeared over, arrived at 1:45 a. m. today. They surrounded the courthouse and mounted machine guns at vantage points. Sheriff Zeigler requested the troops after the arrest of nine men, part of a group of white men who visited the home of Louis Ribaut, Negro mail carrier, and ordered Ribaut to get out of town or suffer the consequences.

Renewed feeling against the Negroes flared up last night after the death of Paul Ritter, 38, second victim of the attack by the three Negroes Sunday. Harry Panchot, service car driver, who had been engaged by the Negroes, was instantly killed.

The Negro assailants of Panchot and Ritter were being held in jail at St. Louis, as a precautionary measure.

POLICE CAPTURE NOTED OUTLAW

Midwestern Bandit Nears End Of Career; Beaten To Draw, Shot By Officers On Train
SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Oct. 15.—"Little Jake" Fleagle, midwestern outlaw who swore he never would be taken alive, neared the end of his murderous bandit career today in a Springfield hospital.
Shot as he tried to beat officers to the draw, Fleagle lay at the point of death from an abdominal wound, conscious but refusing to talk to the "law" he had defied since the Lavar, Colo., bank robbery more than two years ago in which he is charged as the killer of four men.
Fleagle's only request as physicians told him death was near was for his mother. He asked the guards to tell her "to come to see me before I die."
Fleagle was lured through newspaper advertisements into the trap that had been set for him on the train.

Tariff Lauded By Hyde In Address

CHILLICOTHE, Oct. 15.—The new tariff was defended as a benefit to the farmer here last night by Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde.
The secretary asserted that farmers can be stabilized as a producing class and enjoy the same standards of living as industry only through the protective tariff and Republican policies.
Another major move on the part of the Hoover administration to aid agriculture was the launching of efforts to organize the farmers, Hyde declared.

Three Cold Facts

Of vital interest to every citizen
1. The University of North Carolina recently made an investigation of retail food prices in Durham, N. C., a typical American city. It found that chain store grocery prices of advertised goods were 13.79 cents in the dollar lower than prices in other stores.
2. The University of Kentucky announced a few days later that it had made a retail price study of all sorts of food in Lexington, Ky., another typical city. It found food prices in chain store groceries were 14.03 cents in the dollar lower than prices in other stores.
3. The average American family spends for food between $600 and $800 a year, according to estimates of the best known authorities. This means that the average family buying its food at chain stores saves from $84 to $112 a year.
Customers of A&P knew these facts before these impartial investigations were made. It is in the public interest that everyone should know them.

FLASK TOTERS GET WARNINGS

Ohio State-Michigan Tilt
To Be Arid If Dry
Forces Function

COLUMBUS, Oct. 15.—A "dry" statement was made today by Deputy State Prohibition Commissioner W. V. Aldrich.

Aldrich made the declaration that "if any men and Columbus police can make it so" the huge crowd that will attend the Michigan-Ohio State football game here Saturday will conform to the prohibition laws.

Between 20 and 25 state prohibition agents will be called into Columbus from their districts over the week end to aid local police in the drive against bootleggers and flask toters, Aldrich said.

"Not only will the stadium be watched by police and dry agents to arrest those violating the liquor laws, but hotels and recreation centers will be watched following the game. This Aldrich said, he believes will serve to put a damper on after-the-game celebrations.

"Authorities here have pronounced themselves more than willing to co-operate with me in this offensive. It will go hard on all those found with pocket flasks in or out of the stadium, for my men have been instructed to arrest and lock up every violator," he said.

Police Chief French will be in charge of the dry army Saturday.

MOVIES

The Royal theater, closed for the past year, will reopen Thursday, equipped with talking apparatus and will show an all-talking western production, "The Lone Rider" which stars Buck Jones. "The Dawn Patrol" has its final showing at the Grand Thursday while the State starts "Son of My Heart" which stars John McCormack, world famous tenor.

"The Laughing Lady" will be the Grand's attraction Friday and Saturday.

"DAWN PATROL" AT THE GRAND
Richard Barthelmess makes his first appearance in an air story in "The Dawn Patrol." John Monk Saunders wrote the original story which was adapted and dialogued by Seton Miller and an Totheroh.

It is a highly dramatic mirror of those early years of the World war "schoolboy" flyers in the British air service who were compelled to face highly organized German aces when their own mediocre equipment was forced to fight against the more modern enemy planes.

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., plays an important supporting role, while other parts are in the hands of Neil Hamilton, Gardner James, Clyde Cook, James Finlayson, Frank McHugh, William Janney, Edmund Breen and others.

"IN GAY MADRID" AT THE STATE
Dorothy Jordan, a newcomer to motion pictures, is Ramon Novarro's leading lady for the second consecutive time in "In Gay Madrid," his new all-talking and singing picture.

Recruited to films from the New York stage, Miss Jordan made an instant hit and was signed upon a contract by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer who first cast her opposite Novarro in "Devil May Care," in which he made his talking debut.

The convention ends tonight with addresses by Senator Roscoe C. McCulloch and Governor Myers V. Cooper.

Stocks In Court
CINCINNATI, Oct. 15.—Suit was filed yesterday by Wm. R. Collins, attorney, against Paragon Refining Co., Fred A. Gier, Edward W. Edwards and John Cusack, trustees, and Edwards individually asking an injunction restraining the company from transferring or selling Valvoline Oil Co. stock to Edwards. Collins said he believed such disposal of stock was illegal and not to the best interest of stockholders.

Michigan Gridders Face Big Test Against Ohio State Team

THE DAY In Sports

Youngstown South High school's football team clashes with Salem High gridders at the South stadium on Saturday, November 8 in what South fans deem as one of the most important contests on their team's schedule. Second only to the rivalry among various Youngstown schools is the Salem-Youngstown game according to South fans who last week visited Salem as spectators at the Warren battle here. Coach Busty Ashbaugh is after revenge for the decisive trimming handed his lads by the Stonemen in 1929.

South is one of a few schools to have defeated a Salem High team more times than the Red and Black has registered victories. The 14-12 verdict annexed by Floyd Stone's charges last year marked the second time in the history of relationship between the two schools that Salem had defeated South and the first victory for Salem in 17 years. Since 1912 Youngstown South teams have met the Red and Black 12 times in grid warfare. In only three games has Salem scored against the Southmen.

The first game won by Salem was in 1913, the second time the teams met. The score was 19-0. In 1912 South won by a 44-0 margin and it wasn't until 1922 in the day of Bill McKeown, Chris Roessler, Al Sartick and other Salem stars of a few years ago, that Salem scored against the Youngstowners.

Scores of games played between the schools follow:

Year	Salem	South
1913	19	0
1914	0	7
1915	0	7
1916	0	61
1919	0	26
1920	0	31
1921	0	7
1922	6	33
1927	0	7
1929	14	12

South's total score is 243 to Salem's 43. Quite an edge.

A question asks whether Salem ever played Youngstown Rayen in football. These schools met on the gridiron six times and Salem has yet to win from the Rayenites although two of the six games ended in a tie. In 1905 they battled to a 6-6 draw and in the same season played again, this time Rayen gaining a 6-0 victory. Rayen won again in 1911, this time by an 8-0 margin while in 1913 the Youngstown school won by a 24-0 score. They tied in 1915, 0-0 and in their last battle Rayen won, 13-7. This was played in 1916.

A fan asks for publication of South's record to date. Ashbaugh's lads have lost two games. One to Horace Mann High of Gary, by a 32-14 score. Against the Hoosiers South displayed power and now it is hoped as the stiffest opponent on the Red and Black's 1930 schedule. Boardman was defeated 25-0. Campbell Memorial was licked 13-0 while Cleveland Lakewood inflicted the second setback by a 13-0 margin.

Just how Salem will stack up against South may be judged out when the Quakers meet Youngstown East here a week from Friday. Memorial, which lost to South by two touchdowns, walloped East 21-0 last Saturday.

One year ago in Salem sports-grid fans here banquet high football squads at Elks' building . . . ninth inning rally by Athletics nets three runs and world series over Chicago Cubs by 3-2 score . . . Harry Heilman sold to Cincinnati Reds by Detroit Tigers.

Fairmount Bulls To Play At Night

The Fairmount Bulls, widely known independent football team will clash with the Canton Bull Dogs at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday at the Mt. Union stadium.

Thus far the Bulls are undefeated, having won over the I. G. A. Grocers, Canton, Pa., and Meyers Motors of Canton. To date no opposing team has crossed their goal line.

Wolverine Fans Hope For Big Ten Laurels With Purdue Trimmed

BY WILLIAM WEEKES
(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 15—Whether Michigan is its old robust self will be determined to a large extent at Columbus, Ohio, Saturday where it will test its claws on Ohio State University.

Michigan has not had what Michigan calls a successful football season since 1926, but with a victory over Purdue, the 1929 Big Ten champion, already accomplished, hope is high in Ann Arbor for an unmarred conference slate. If the Wolverine gets by the powerful, but

Lightweight Champ Races To Decision Over Denver Battler

CHICAGO, Oct. 15—Al Singer, the ruler of the world's lightweight boxers, owned a decisive victory for his initial appearance in Chicago, but was considerably leg-weary young man.

Engaging in his first bout in his own division since he knocked the crown from Sammy Mandell's head last July, Singer scored a one-sided victory over Eddie Mack of Denver, in the stadium last night, but it required ten rounds of everlasting running after the westerner to gain him the decision of the referee and judges.

The 9,524 spectators, most of whom came to the stadium with the sole hope of seeing the king flatten Mack, were disappointed and booed the decision.

The fireworks action were provided by King Levinsky, the west side fish distributor, who kept letting fly with his devastating right until he tagged Tom Kirby of Boston, in the second round of a ten rounder. The King looked somewhat foolish in missing, but when he landed on Kirby's chin, the result was extremely convincing.

Old-Time Stars To Clash Turkey Day

CHICAGO, Oct. 15—Notre Dame and Northwestern football stars of other years will meet on Soldiers field Thanksgiving day, in a curtain raiser contest to the Oregon State-West Virginia Shrine's hospital benefit game.

Tim Lowrey, Northwestern captain in 1925, has collected together Waldo Fisher, Hank Pinkler, Bill Calderwood, Skeets Wieman, Rus Berghern, Yatz Levison and Heinie Anderson, former Wildcat stars, for the game. Coach Knute Rockne will select an all-Notre Dame eleven.

Loyola Schools To Battle In South

CHICAGO, Oct. 15—Two dozen Loyola university football players today headed for New Orleans where they clash with their namesake school, Loyola university of the south, Friday night.

The loss of Ted Connelly, star quarterback, dimmed the hopes of the Chicago players.

somehow green Ohio eleven. Michigan supporters may reasonably expect to win the balance of its Big Ten games.

Michigan will have another aim—to prevent Ohio State from running its string of consecutive victories to four, one more than it ever has been able to collect in a row. The Buckeyes defeated Michigan in 1919, 1920 and 1921, but the powerful Wolverine team of 1922 put a stop to that string.

Ohio Attack Strong Ohio demonstrated it has a powerful running offense when it made 13 first downs against Northwestern last week. The punch was lacking in scoring territory, but Coach William has polished off the rough edges this week and Michigan probably will find the Buckeyes tougher than Purdue proved last week. Unless some new piece of ill fortune comes along today.

Northwestern football men and students probably will feel a little disappointed. For the past week the Wildcats have averaged almost a jolt a day, with the loss yesterday through ineligibility of Harry Kent, a fine guard, the latest blow. Coach Dick Hanley has been unable to work his team strenuously because of wholesale vaccinations, and doesn't even have an idea as to who will start against Illinois Saturday.

The Illini are concentrating on a defense against Northwestern's fire against the Wildcats. Minnesota's defense appears pretty well and Coach Crisler is rounding out his defense for use against Indiana Saturday. The Hoosiers are more worried about the Gopher offense and are busily working on defensive details.

Purdue Improves Purdue's reserve team has shown immense improvement this week and Coach Kizer has indicated he may try the shock troop system against Iowa. The Hawkeyes continue to drill on scoring stuff and yesterday made a strong showing against the freshmen.

Pennsylvania formations have failed to do much business against Wisconsin's varsity and the Badgers are almost frankly confident of turning back the eastern invaders Saturday. Injuries have hampered Chicago's drills for the Florida contest Saturday. But Coach Stagg is outspoken in his belief that the the Maroons will give the powerful Gators a stiff battle.

Perhaps one of the most interesting of the early Fall football games will be played at Hanover on October 18, when Dartmouth will march to the grid field for an encounter with Columbia

FOOTBALL TEAMS MAY AID CHARITY

Northwestern And Notre Dame Game May Go To Soldier Field

CHICAGO, Oct. 15—A proposal to play football for charity was being given serious consideration today by Northwestern university and the University of Notre Dame.

The two schools are scheduled to play at Dwyer stadium, Evanston, November 22. The Tribune today sponsored a move to have the game transferred from the stadium, which has a capacity of 50,000 spectators, to Soldier Field, where as many as 110,000 persons may be seated.

The plan provides that the money realized from the sale of 50,000 tickets—the most that could possibly be sold at Dwyer stadium—would be divided among the two football teams.

The money realized on the sale of additional tickets, possibly 60,000, would go to charity.

Fundamental Facts Second-Business Experience The Home has been in business for more than forty years. It was organized in 1889 and its first dividend on savings accounts was paid January 1, 1890. Six months later another dividend was paid, and each subsequent six months has seen other dividends, all actually earned and paid out of the profits of the business. Few, if any, of the stocks listed on Wall Street can show an unbroken record of dividends actually earned and paid, year in and year out for forty years.

During these forty years this country has experienced a number of business depressions, some of which have been quite severe. One came in 1893, another in 1903, a third in 1907, a fourth in 1920, and the last depression starting last fall is still with us. The Home weathered each of the preceding depressions successfully, earning and paying its five per cent—and sometimes more—and adding to its surplus, each six months, in bad times as well as good. And it is weathering the present depression in the same manner and with the same success that it weathered the preceding depressions.

EAST SUFFERS FROM DROUGHT

Water Supplies Short In Several Cities; Farms Badly Affected

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—A prolonged drought throughout the east today brought fears of a water famine and serious crop damage. The situation was viewed with such alarm in Philadelphia that the Presbyterian Ministerial association urged prayers be offered for rain.

Rain has not fallen to any appreciable extent in Philadelphia for 18 days. Throughout Pennsylvania communities were suffering from a shortage of water and crops were being endangered by the dry spell.

At Marietta, Lancaster county, a house to house check of water leaks was ordered and posters put up asking residents to refrain from washing clothes.

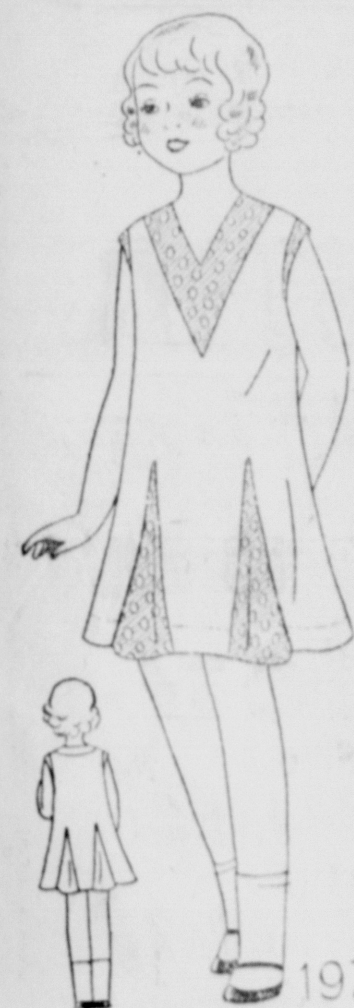

Throughout New England mid-summer temperatures prevailed, while in rural sections of Connecticut wells were dry and both residents and cattle faced a water famine.

The water famine extended into Maryland where at Annapolis the reservoir was so low its sides have been described as resembling a deserted football stadium. The city has been drawing 200,000 gallons of water daily from the private supply at the United States Naval academy.

The prolonged dry spell in New Jersey has resulted in an outbreak of forest fires, thirty being reported in the state.

NEW YORK—Mary Garden has found a thrill equal to that of champagne, a thrill the legality of which is unquestioned. It is singing over the radio.

By Wanda Barton

Perhaps the revival of interest in early American furniture is responsible for the growing popularity of candles, not only as supplementary table decoration, but for mellow illumination. There's some magic about candlelight—and it can't be supplanted even by electric bulbs that imitate candles.

The simplest tea or dinner table is made glamorous if lighted by two or four candles. With, perhaps, a small, shallow bowl or flowers nearby. Candlesticks of silver, pewter, glass or pottery are now made in modern designs and there are also available some beautiful reproductions of old-fashioned holders.

There's a difference in candles, too. The tall, tapering ones are the most graceful, but no matter what their shape, they should be good quality, dripless, so that their appearance is not marred during use. If, however, one has acquired candles that are found to drip they may be given a home treatment. If an ordinary candle is coated with a soap solution (2 tablespoons of soap flakes dissolved in one cup of hot water) and then allowed to cool and dry it will not drip. However, the commercial non-drip candles are not costly and it pays to buy the best since the difference is so slight.

Candles and candlesticks that are used at table should not be so tall that they interfere with the diner's view of each other. This is an item that must be remembered before-hand—otherwise the very handiwork of some of the most graceful, later made by the evident annoyance it causes to the two persons who find it an obstruction. It's the pale, golden glow of the candles that makes the atmosphere so pleasant—not their impressive size.

"A Vocados" used to be mentioned in the same respectful tone as truffles or caviar luxuries of the indulgent rich. But they are now more abundant, and in season are on the same price level as grapefruit.

mealy, very delicate and a good background to other stronger flavors. Like the banana, which is at its best when slightly tinged with brown spots and somewhat soft the avocado is in its prime when no longer green. Not too soft, but yielding slightly to the touch, its outer skin turning from green to brown.

There are several ways of preparing the avocados, depending upon its appearance at a meal. If a first course it can be mixed with a tart fruit as cocktail. Peel the thick skin, cut in half, remove the large hard pit inside. Cut the pear in slices or cubes and mix with slices of peeled grapefruit or orange or pineapple. Season with lemon juice if desired.

Tart Dressing
Or cut the avocado in half and remove the pit, but not the skin. Fill the cavity with a tart dressing Mayonnaise or Russian dressing or a Thousand Island dressing are excellent. Or the usual cocktail sauce—Chili sauce, horseradish lemon juice and Worcestershire mixed together.

Most important any salad with an avocado pear content must be well chilled. Unless it is icy cold it will have too flat a taste.

Another pleasant mixture is to cut the peeled avocado in slices resembling orange or grapefruit slices and pile alternately with these on romaine or endive. Serve with a thick dressing, well chilled.

Modern Laundry Solves Many Problems For Salem Housewives

For a half century women in America have made wondrous progress in their present position in the world of affairs it hardly seems possible that the old idea of women being confined to household tasks ever held sway. Nor does it seem possible that the thought women could never make a success in business life prevailed. Perhaps the only reason these two ideas ever got the hold upon the public they did was because the work in the household had to be done, and there was no other way to do than by hand labor. So women, with their adaptability, had to do it.

How much the world in days gone by lost through this remains to be seen. Surely no one could measure it now. But one thing has been established pretty definitely now—that women's brains are too valuable to allow women to waste their time over a washtub. It is too great an economic loss, to say nothing of the physical strain. The woman who does her washing these days must greatly underestimate her value to the world.

Laundries are so much better equipped to do the family washing; they do the washing itself so much better, and the clothing and other articles actually look cleaner and wear better, that it is really more of a waste than easily apparent to try to do such work at home. The care taken in the modern laundry is so great, the cleanliness is superb, and the labor saving is so marked, that women all over the city are sending their weekly wash to the American Laundry & Dry Cleaning company, which has several methods of doing the family wash. Your clothes may be simply washed and rough dried, or they may be completely ironed, and there are plans by which your work may be done just so far as desired. In fact, this laundry is ready and willing to free women from drudgery just to the extent the women desire. The work of the laundry is unquestionably excellent, and you are invited to use its facilities to the utmost for your own comfort. All laundry work is carried on under the personal supervision of B. C. Carey, who has been with the firm for nine years. R. C. Gibbs is manager of the company.

In addition, this firm has a complete dry cleaning service, featuring the famous Miracle system. They clean everything from a suit or dress to rugs and draperies. Their linen and towel services are used by business houses all over this section. Many folks are enjoying the prompt service they get by calling 295.

NEW YORK—Sidney Franklin, flatbush tinsmith, back from Spain, has no plans to introduce bullfighting into the United States. "There would be too much competition from miniature golf courses I have heard about," he explained.

USED PARTS FOR CAR BOUGHT AT LOWER PRICES

Large Stock Available At Axelrod Yards In This City

In the vast stock of parts available at the Axelrod Auto Parts company, 511 E. Pershing, the automobile owners of this community have a big asset. This concern buys wrecked cars regularly. These cars are dismantled, the parts examined, and the worn ones sent to the junkman. The parts that are available for service are offered for sale at much less than such parts can be bought now.

Automobile manufacturing has been brought to such perfection that many of these could not well be told from new parts. If worn at all, the wear is very slight—not enough to affect the working. Hence it is certainly good judgment, in the event of the giving way of any part of a car, to see if it cannot be replaced by one of these. The big volume of business done by this firm means that it is quite likely to have in stock any part of any machine.

Thus it is possible to obtain quick service at low cost in the replacement. Garages throughout all this part of the country have long since learned the value of this service. At all times the Axelrod yard has on hand used tires and used batteries. As may be expected, these are in various states of usefulness and priced accordingly. The man who is particular may always find bargains here, and few people call on them for parts without going away satisfied.

The Axelrod folks will buy cars in any state of wreck or whole.

OIL SELECTION IS VERY IMPORTANT

Good Lubrication Of Car Means Less Expense For Upkeep

As more experience is gathered in driving motor cars, the motorist becomes more keenly of the opinion that the most serious matter is the lubrication of his car. He may drive with poor gasoline with comparative ease, but he always pays, and pays well, for driving with poor oil. The bill may not be presented for months, but it arrives eventually.

That makes the choice of the oil he uses of importance. Some brands are better than others, of course, and some brands have established a remarkable reputation. Of the latter Pennzoi has become about as firmly entrenched in the good opinion of motorists as anything may be. One feels that with the use of this oil he is safe.

The Pennzoi Company, on Lincoln road, sees this confidence expressed in larger sales in the many stations in this territory to which it wholesales the oil, and in the five stations it conducts itself—West State and Jennings, East State and North Madison, South Ellsworth and South Lincoln road in Salem and South Union and Claymorgans in Alliance.

By the way, the local station on West State street has a water softener in commission, with which radiators are filled—a thing that illustrates the purpose of the company to give the utmost service.

DAIRY LUNCH IN SALEM STRESSES BUYING OF FOOD

A great part of the real service in a restaurant is in the buying of the food, and therefore never meets the public eye. Many restaurants, because the public eye does not see this service, make the mistake of buying a little less than the best quality, in the impression that the customers will not know the difference. It is the aim, however, of a real restaurant man to serve only the best of whatever he has, and in the long run, as exemplified by the Dairy Lunch restaurant at 295 East Ellsworth, this is the only right way.

Upon the excellence of its food this place has built quite a reputation in the ten years it has been operating. John Tallas and John Vitas, the owners, have certain very definite principles to which they include three of especial soundness—the selection of the best the market affords, the preparation of the same in a thoroughly equipped modern kitchen, and the courtesy of really attentive service.

Business people like to lunch there. Meals are served at all hours; short orders are prepared at any time, and light lunches are ready for those who are in a hurry.

Environment Of Home Has Great Influence On Child

Interesting studies of the effects of various colors and surroundings have been made from time to time on adults, but not a great deal of attention has been paid to the same problems in children. In fact, a great deal of the research work of the past has been on the basis that children would make the best of what they could get, and the adults only would be influenced with surroundings. Of course, as a matter of fact, children are more affected by the environment than adults, although the effect on the latter is very great.

Not enough has yet been learned to draw very definite conclusions, perhaps, beyond the fact that a child's affection for its home is not governed entirely by the treatment it receives, but is also affected by the home itself.

It has been brought out that children are dwarfed in their expression and often in their studies by a sense of gloom. The house that is gloomy is not a fitting place for the young. It has also been found that children raised amid bright surroundings are quicker of thought and keener of intellect.

SPEEDY SERVICE FEATURES WORK BY WELDING CO.

Whether it is a tank or a gear or a frame or any one of a hundred other things that give way at the wrong time, if a good job of welding will cure the trouble, well informed Salem people send it to the Umstead Welding Co. Many a factory employee owes his pay envelope for a week to Umstead's hurry up job; many a contractor faced with a week's idleness of men and equipment censures Umstead because the threatened week of idleness was cut to a day by his quick work.

For Umstead is a man who likes to overcome difficulties and welcomes them with a smile. He likes to tackle those jobs the other fellows say cannot be done. Somehow, he irons out the difficulties. At that, makeshift work never appears to him. He does it right, or not at all. The frame that he welds holds together. It is there to stay. The gear that is stripped gets new teeth that last as long as the original.

To do these things Umstead has a perfectly equipped shop, and he employs a force of men that are experienced in the trade. Men who have the responsibility for machinery on their hands, and men who want the best of work when they need it, should keep acquainted with Umstead. He is a present help in time of trouble. Phone him over 376.

Suggestions Offered At Art The Jeweler's Salem Store

One of the happy customs of this old world is the giving of gifts to people we love. In that millennial age to come about which many people think a great deal, perhaps everybody will be able to give full expression to the old adage that it is more blessed to give than to receive; but as things are now most people cannot often let that sentiment have full play. When they do, however, the choice of the gift should receive a great deal of consideration.

From time immemorial the giving of jewelry has been the highest token of affection, and as such it still prevails. Only now one has a bewildering choice in the stores of such places as the store of Art the Jeweler, 462 East State street. Here he can find real works of art in gifts, all the way from a handsome little pendant up to a diamond like a headlight. The gifts do not stop with ornamental articles, either. There are hundreds of useful articles in artistic forms—silverware, china, glassware, pewter, toilet sets, leather goods, pens and many others.

Seeking a gift should lead your steps to Art's for another reason as well, for whatever you get there is worth giving—really fine in quality as well as appearance, selected because of that, and sold at prices you can afford to pay for goods that are worth buying.

One of the easiest ways to make a home brighter and with more of a sense of happiness is to decorate it so that spirits are kept up by the eye. The modern wall papers recognize this fact. They make a darning and altogether pleasing use of colors, and do this on the scientific basis that certain colors enliven and others rest.

After all, the wall paper is the principal decoration of a home. It furnishes the background for all the rest, and its importance is predominant. The Redinger Wall Paper & Paint Co., 198 South Broadway, supply a great deal of the wall paper used in and surrounding territory and they believe in the value of correct decoration of the home. Their stocks are selected with the thought of that in mind. Those homeowners of this community who want to make ideal conditions in their homes for the children will give a great deal of thought to this part of the home, and Fred Redinger will be able to help them select from the large stocks the most suitable. This firm also has a complete stock of paints, enamels and varnishes, giving a wide choice of finishes and colors.

"We like to feel that in the performance of our work, people may rely on our thoroughness and on the promptness and consideration with which it is done," declared F. G. Harris of the Harris Garage and Storage company at 485 West State. "There is nothing more exasperating than the delay in moving caused by the failure of the vans to appear, unless it is the neglect to do a job of commercial hauling when it is promised. People make their own plans dependent upon the mover, and when he delays them they feel they have a real grievance. We try in this place to prevent anything like that. With the trucks we have available, it is rare indeed that anything can happen to compel us to disappoint people."

"Our storage warehouse is always available for the reception of goods, whether it be for a single night or for a term of months. We use every reasonable precaution to keep the goods of our patrons in fine order and to deliver them promptly when wanted."

"In our long distance moving we have connections that enable us to give exceptional service, whether the moving be only a few miles or several hundred. Vans follow a regular schedule and arrive on time, frequently having the goods placed where they belong long before other means of transportation report their arrival."

"Trucking gets our very prompt attention. We realize that when a business wants a consignment of goods, delay is serious, and our men are continually making new records in promptness and safe handling."

SYDNEY, N. S.—It takes quite an injury to deter a real golfer. Lord Willington, governor general of Canada, got a black eye when a ball struck him at Braddock Saturday, but he was back on the links after a layoff for the Sabbath.

Owners of McMillan radios are proud to tell their friends that they own a McMillan. There is a natural pride in having the best, and if anything better could be built into a radio, McMillan would have it, according to E. L. Grate, its distributor in Salem.

"The new models 1930-31 McMillan radios are just that—quality throughout," Grate stated today. Improvements have been added to insure reception as clear of annoyance as possible. The new tuning arrangement is sharp and definite. The slightest turn of the knob has an instantaneous effect. The illuminated dial has calibrated markings for both kilocycles and meters for prompt and easy location of distant stations. Heavy gauge steel is used for foundation and shielding. There is an appearance of battleship ruggedness that assures of long life."

There are times when excessive volume is essential, but not with the sacrifice of clarity. The giant dynamic speaker fed by the nine-tube circuit gives you the desired volume, yet at all times the full range of tone is clear—from the heavy boom of the bass viol or tuba, to the clear, sweet notes of the piccolo or violin.

This tone range is a feature of the McMillan. It is made possible by a new type of audio amplifier perfected by the McMillan engineers. You may turn up the power for a veritable avalanche of sound, or down for the faintest whisper.

The laboratory has produced the circuit used in all McMillan radios only after exhaustive research. We believe we have the finest chassis it is possible for us to produce, and your first trial makes this at once apparent. The new audio system is in itself an achievement. The circuit comprises nine tubes, and all models have a self contained phonograph pickup connection. Truly the McMillan is a sensational, radio achievement.
